Speeding Car Cuts Power to Homes

2 Injured In Traffic Mishap

Auto Crashes Into Pole

Dozens of homes in the West Fourth street and West Park boulevard area were without electricity for several hours after 10 a. m. today when a car travelling at an estimated 80 miles an hour struck another car, snapped off a utility pole and then crashed into a truck.

Artis C. DeFoor, 31, driver of the car and his wife, Mary Louise DeFoor, 26, of 224½ North Main street were treated at General hospital for facial lacerations and body abrasions.

According to police, witnesses said DeFoor's car was traveling about 80 miles an hour, heading east on West Fourth street. The car apparently skidded out of control and struck a car entering Linden road, from Fourth street. That car was driven by Stephan Timmons, 76 Brickman avenue. Timmons escaped injury

DeFoor's car then traveled 519 feet east on Fourth street, and snapped off the utility pole, just across from the intersection with West Park boulevard. The car careened 60 more feet and crashed into a parked State Highway department pick-up truck, and moved it 26 feet down Fourth street.

The series of week end accidents in Mansfield resulted in the arrest of three drivers.

Paul Gemzer, 25, of 243 East Longview avenue, was charged with unsafe operation after his car collided with another driven by Kenneth Stutz, 34, of 451 Newman street.

Mrs. Marlies K. Huffman, 32, of 335 Cedar street, was fined $10 and costs today in municipal court, an outgrowth of an accident Sunday.

John David Aumend, 23 of 552 Lida street, was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after the Veterans Cab company taxi he was driving was involved in an accident with a car driven by James R. Stimmell, 18, Mansfield, R. D. 2.

Wintry Grip Holds In City

Refusing to let spring tip-toe into the picture, Old Man Winter prepared today for another comeback.

Snow flurries were forecast for tonight in this area and tomorrow is expected to be cloudy and colder.

The mercury dipped to a frigid 14 degrees in Mansfield yesterday, but by afternoon the sun had melted much of the snow except in protected spots. Today's low was 21.

Throughout the nation, however, temperatures ranged from six degrees below zero in Pembina, N. Dak., to 86 degrees in Laredo, Texas.

Bulletins

N. Y. Gets Killers

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—The lonely hearts killers were ordered to be turned over to the state of New York today for a murder trial which could send them to Sing Sing's electric chair. Circuit Judge Dale Scouter upheld New York's claim to Raymond Fernandez, 34-year-old mail order Casanova, and Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, confessed slayers of two widows and a baby in a matrimonial bureau racket.

Ryan Gives Up

NEW YORK —(INS)—Kenneth Ryan, ex-detective and wire-tapping expert, who made an out-the-window flight from City Hall Saturday morning, presented himself today at the district attorney's office. He is alleged to have made a full confession to Mayor William O'Dwyer that he was hired in connection with a fantastic wire-tapping plot aimed at discrediting the O'Dwyer administration.

Pair Held In Auto Lootings

Two 25-year-old Grace street men were held by police today in connection with the theft of $870 worth of clothing, jewelry and other valuables from the car of William Rader, 124 North Walnut street.

Three other thefts from cars were reported either in or near the city during the week-end.

Rader said the $870 theft occurred between 9:45 p. m. and 11 p. m. yesterday while his car was parked at 92 East Sixth street. He said the car was locked and that entrance had been gained by forcing open the ventilator in the right front door window.

Police said $120 worth of the clothing had been recovered, listed the missing items as two traveling cases, containing men's and women's clothing and jewelry, valued at $500; a carton of hand crocheting valued at $100. and a guitar and case, valued at $150.

John L. Vinson, 132½ North Adams street, reported early Sunday that a battery was stolen from his car while the auto was parked overnight on North Willis avenue.

Two flashlights were reported stolen from the auto of Karl Vogel, 443 Wayne street. Vogel, who reported the theft at 7 p. m. Sunday, said the car was parked in the garage at the rear of his home. Neither the car nor the garage was locked, Vogel said.

Reinhold Elsasser jr., 217 Cline avenue, reported to sheriff's deputies that the back-up light and mud flaps were stolen from his car at the Catalina night club on U. S. Route 42 between 11:30 p. m. Saturday and 1 a. m. Sunday.

Soviets Oust Vice Premier

MOSCOW — (UP) — Nikolai A. Vozensensky has been relieved of his duties as a vice premier of the Soviet Union and chairman of the Soviet state planning commission, it was disclosed today.

The latest shift in the top Soviet hierarchy came to light when the council of nationalities, one of the two houses of the Soviet parliament, ratified the appointment of Maksim Zakharovich Saburov to the two posts.

There was no immediate indication whether the 45-year-old Vozensensky remains a member of the all-powerful Soviet pilotburo. It was announced that Saburov took over as vice premier and chief of the state planning commission March 5.

The chairman of the planning commission is responsible for planning and coordinating Soviet economy. Vozensensky became chairman in 1938 and his latest major task was the framing of Russia's first post-war five-year plan.

He became a full member of the politburo in 1947 at the age of 43 and was the only member who also was a member of the academy of sciences by virtue of his scholastic achievements. Premier Josef Stalin and Vice-Premier V. N. Molotov are honorary members.

Wire-Tapping Bribe Hinted

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Clendenin Ryan, multimillionaire civic reformer, charged today that he had been offered the post of ambassador to France to call off his campaign against what he calls the gangster-dominated regime of Mayor William F. O'Dwyer.

The burly foe of Tammany Hall said the offer had been relayed to him by a prominent public relations expert.

Ryan said he had demanded that the offer be "put in writing."

Ryan charges underworld chief Frank Costello is the real power behind the city's Democratic machine. Ryan said he would be pleased to appear before the grand jury investigating an alleged plot to tap the wires of city officials here and in Detroit and Chicago.

FIGURES IN COAL STRIKE—Because the United Mine Workers Union opposes Dr. James Boyd as director of the federal bureau of mines, UMW President John L. Lewis gave the order which today kept approximately 471,000 coal miners away from the pits and is expected to cut coal production by 43,500 tons during the two weeks that the protest "holiday" is in effect. Meanwhile, eastern railroads which haul coal, today started laying off 69,000 men. Two of the men who will be without jobs Wednesday are shown above, center. Enginemen Carl Speakman (left) and John Hines of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway read a news dispatch at Columbus telling of the layoff of 10,000 C & O workers.

Five Powers Talk In London

(By United Press)

Foreign, defense and finance ministers of the five western union powers met behind closed doors in London today to map strategy for their next moves in the cold war with eastern Europe.

Eastern European military leaders also were reported in session. From Vienna came word that Russia had called eastern military officials to a conference with soviet army leaders in Debrecen, Hungary.

Cabinet ministers from Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg met in the British capital three weeks ahead of a schedule in an ettempt to speed formation of a united front against any attack from the east.

On the agenda for the two-day meeting were such questions as:

1. -Military, financial and economic implications of the Atlantic security pact.

2. -Coordination of the western union organization with the Atlantic pact in defense problems and with the proposed council of Europe in the political field.

3. -Plans for a 10-power conference March 28 to approve a constitution for the council of Europe.

Other foreign news included:

BATAVIA, JAVA — Fighting flared again in Java with one clash reported under way within 30 miles of Batavia. Dutch army headquarters said 500 Republican troops also stormed into Soekaboemi, 55 miles sourth of Batavia, last night, but were thrown back.

RHODES — Acting united nations mediator Dr. Ralph Bunche said troop movements by Israeli and Trans-Jordan forces in the AQABA area appear to be a serious breach of the Palestine truce. He declined further comment pending a report from UN observers.

BERLIN — A British-licensed newspaper reported that 50,000 soviet zone German policemen will participate as a military unit in the soviet army's spring maneuvers.

That Day's Here Again

Taxpayers Rush To Beat Deadline

That day is almost here again. Tomorrow is March 15, deadline for filing income tax returns. All returns not yet filed must be postmarked not later than midnight tomorrow.

The income tax office in the post office was rushed today by taxpayers who waited until the eleventh hour. Persons waiting formed a line that extended down the stairway from the second-floor office.

Most Mansfielders filed returns early this year, especially those who expect to get a refund on tax withheld from their earnings.

The internal revenue office here had a rush of business from the first of the year until the middle of February as many Mansfielders filed as soon as they received statements of earnings.

Mansfielders who need help in filing their returns can visit the tax office during regular office hours today and tomorrow. The office will close at its usual hour, 5 p. m. both days.

Figures on the number of persons who have filed returns here are not yet available as all records are kept in the Cleveland office and will not be released for several days.

Some Mansfielders who filed early returns already are receiving checks due them. Others can expect to get their checks soon, tax officials said.

Refunds are being mailed as fast as they can be processed in the Cleveland office, it was said.

Firm Lists Profits

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Glidden company today reported net profit of $1,629,881 for three months ended Jan. 31, 1949, equal to 85 cents per common share, compared with $2,174,558 and $1.17 a share for the period ended Jan. 31, 1948.

Sentence Reduced

WIESBADEN — (INS) — The 20-year prison term given to Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo of Malden, Mass., for the killing of her GI husband after a bedroom brawl was reduced to five years today by an appeal court in Wiesbaden.

The court found "mitigating circumstances" in the cruelty with which — according to trial testimony — Ybarbo, a U. S. army sergeant from Goliad, Tex., treated his attractive young wife.

Five men comprised the tribunal which cut down the heavy sentence originally meted out by an American military court operating under German law.

In approving her appeal, presiding judge William Clark, of New York, ruled that German law does not permit a sentence of more than five years.

The court ordered all references to the alleged illegitimacy of Mrs. Ybarbo's son, Jimmy, removed from the record of the trial. The boy was returned to the United States after his mother's conviction.

Empty Chest Found

Seek $1,500,000 'Jesse James Horde'

ZANESVILLE — (INS) — Four men from the old west sorrowfully trudged over the Muskingum county hills near Zanesville today in the second round of a search for a fabulous $1,500,000 they believe was hidden by Jesse James.

Aided by a mine detector, a map they said was drawn by the notorious desperado of the 1880's the quartet thought they had found Saturday the magic spot where Jesse hid the loot from a stagecoach robbery.

Eagerly the crew unearthed an old metal chest, cracked it open and prepared to plunge their fingers into the golden horde which Jesse was said to have hidden while working as a newspaper subscription and lightning rod salesman.

The chest was empty.

But ex-slave "Uncle John" Trammel, who said he is 109 years old and that he "rode with" Jesse, sighed and said the search would be carried on. "Uncle John" said he helped Jesse bury the treasure and was sure it was somewhere in the area.

Lee Howk, of Van Nuys, Calif., who said he was a private investigator for the James family, indicated he believed "Uncle John", as did Roscoe James of Buffalo, Colo., who claimed to be a nephew of Jesse. The other treasure hunter was James Cooper, who lays claim to being an authority on the James story.

Howk claims Jesse still lives in Lawton, Okla., as Frank Dalton. And from Austin, Tex., came a story that Dalton, who claims he is Jesse was in an oxygen tent at Breckenridge hospital.

From his hospital bed, Dalton was quoted as saying:

"They're not going to find it. . .it's not a million and a half, it's about $52,000. I'm not worried about anybody finding it. Howk knows just about enough to think he knows, but he doesn't.

Population Tops 47,000

New Directory Shows Increase

Mansfield's population, without recently-annexed South Boulevards, is estimated at 46,100 in the new Burch city directory which was issued today. South Boulevards added about 1,000 to the city population.

Mansfield's city and suburban population, including Lincoln Heights, East Mansfield, South Boulevards, Roseland, and other residential districts, has been placed at 50,631 by the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The Audit Bureau is an independent agency which checks the circulations of newspapers and other publications.

First 300 of the new directories will be distributed to subscribers today and tomorrow. The others will be available by the end of week, spokesmen for the publishers said.

The grey-backed directories are about an inch longer than the old ones, published in 1947. They contain 688 pages, nine more than the old books.

Because data for the directories was compiled several weeks ago, they do not contain the new telephone numbers which went into effect March 1. The book lists 20,771 telephone subscribers as compared with 17,753 two years ago.

In addition to the alphabetical list of names, the directory includes apartment buildings, associations and clubs, a business directory, a church directory, city officials, county officials, a numerical telephone list, a street directory, and information on parks, schools, and public buildings.

Would Shift Draft Rule

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Hoover commission recommended to Congress today the selective service system be placed in the Labor department.

The commission proposed several other agencies also be transferred to the Labor department to build up that executive branch.

Headed by former president Herbert Hoover, the commission is a bi-partisan group asked by congress to recommend improvements in the government's executive structure.

The commission's report on the selective service system was not unanimous.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, vice chairman of the commission, dissented along with outgoing Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal and Carter Manasco, former member of congress from Alabama.

The commission agreed the selective service system should be headed by civilians—but the three dissenters said it should remain independent. The majority decided the manpower question was related to the Labor department's function and the drafting of civilians for war should be handled there.

Strike Puts 69,000 More Out of Work

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The Senate Interior committee today approved 10 to 1 the nomination of Dr. James Boyd as Bureau of Mines Director over the objections of John L. Lewis and his idle coal miners.

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A miners' work stoppage today reduced the nation's mighty coal output to a mere trickle.

It idled some 471,000 hard and soft coal miners east of the Mississippi. It hit the nation's coal-dependent industries by forcing furloughs for some 69,000 railroad workers.

The diggers started a two-week voluntary lay off in answer to John L. Lewis's call for a memorial to dead and injured miners. The miners also are protesting appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The idle miners normally work in these ten states: West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Illinois, Alabama, Ohio, Virginia, Tennessee, Indiana and Maryland.

Lewis's order for a work stoppage exempted about 32,000 UMW miners in these states: Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Utah, Arkansas, Oklohoma, New Mexico, Washington, Kansas and Missouri.

The western states produce only a trickle of the nation's soft coal. Pennsylvania produces virtually all the anthracite mined in the United States and ranks second after West Virginia as a soft coal producer.

The scene at a captive coal mine, owned by the U. S. Steel corporation in western Pennsylvania was typical.

The siren at the national No. 1 mine of H. C. Frick Coke company, U. S. Steel subsidiary, blew the work call as usual at 6:40 a. m. (EST). But it was a mournful wail which went unanswered.

There also was idleness at more than a dozen other Frick holdings in this rich western Pennsylvania production area. The big Robena mine near Uniontown, reputedly world's largest single producing mine, also was idle.

The collective production of the Frick mines has been estimated at about 30,000 tons per day.

Jones and Laughlin Steel coporation, fourth largest steel producer in the nation, also expected no work.

PROTEST WALK OUT

Lewis, 69-year-old leader of the United Mine Workers, last Friday ordered the pits closed down from today until March 28. He said it would be a memorial to the miners killed or injured last year. And, he continued, it would be the miners' protest against President Truman's nomination of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

First effects of the work stoppage came in the railroad in-

Police Trace Child-Voiced Mystery Call

HARRISBURG, Pa. —(AP)— Police sought the source of a mysterious telephone call today that told of two small children left alone in a house with the water running and the gas on.

An unidentified woman told police she answered her phone shortly before last midnight and heard a sobbing girl cry:

"My mommie and daddy went to town. Me and my little sister are all alone. We were playing house. We turned on the water in the sink and we turned on the gas on the stove and now we can't get them turned off. It stinks like gas in here.

Another woman, Mrs. Claude Atticks, reported a similar call. She said the girl screamed:

"I want my mommie. Tell my mommie to come home. It stinks in here."

Mrs. Atticks said she heard the splashing of water just before the connection was broken.

Hours later, no trace of the girl had been found.

State police Corporal John Rights commented:

"I can't leave anything undone as long as there is the slightest possibility that the situation exists. If there is anyone with a twisted enough character, a distorted sense of humor, to do this as a gag, I hope I can find him.

"But we cannot even think that it is a gag. We must accept it as a fact."

NEWARK—(AP)—Ned Moran, 41, was sentenced to one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary today by Licking county Common Pleas Judge Charles Holtsberry on a second degree manslaughter conviction in connection with a Newark traffic death last year.

Church OK's Program to Cost $97,000

First Lutheran To Enlarge Building

Bids for a $97,000 remodeling job at the First Lutheran church will be sought immediately, it was decided at a congregational meeting yesterday afternoon.

The remodeling job will include the installation of a complete new heating plant, a building at the rear of the parish house lot in which to house the new plant; remodeling of the entire church basement and the installation of new and modern equipment there to care for the needs of the children of the church.

The meeting yesterday afternoon followed a session several months ago at which it was decided to conduct a campaign for $65,000 to remodel and repair the church. This campaign will be started at once and that sum, together with the $28,000 now on hand, will be used for the extensive remodeling job.

It is expected that the program will be under way this summer during the months when it is not necessary to use the heating system, Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor, said today.

The remodeling job will be completed in preparation for the installation of a new $25,000 Mueller organ and redecorating of the auditorium of the church at a later date.

Chairman of the building committee is Valentine Wolf and his committee personnel include F. Roy Webber, C. L. Mitchell and George H. Smith.

The committee on meeting the needs of the church includes George H. Hoover, chairman; Mrs. Edward Smith sr., Russell McCullough, Harry Wolf and John K. Linsenmayer.

New Quake Hits Coast

SANTA CLARA, CAL. —(UP) — The second "strong" earthquake in a week left residents of northern California coast cities jittery today.

The quake startled residents of San Francisco, San Leandro, Carmel, Hollister and Monterey at 1:10 a. m. (EST) this morning. Police immediately were swamped with hundreds of telephone calls.

University of Santa Clara seismologists said the temblor lasted about five minutes. It apparently was centered near Hollister on the San Andreas fault, 80 miles southeast of San Francisco. No damage was reported.

The same northern California area was hit by a sharp earthquake last Wednesday, causing minor damage. Last night's shock was described as "lighter," but of longer duration.

Wall Street Bootblack Shines 'Em Up; Owns Apartment Houses

BIGTOWN CHARACTERS: Tony, the Wall Street bootblack, who owns a whole block of apartment houses in Queens. . . . "The Monocle," a pompous chap, who pulls up in an English chariot outside Roseland every p. m. at tea-time His chauffeurette waits while he shoots pool at McGirr's.

Over at El Borracho some Democrats were praising new Sec'y of Defense Louis Johnson

Item: "Truman leaves Washington 2nd time on vacation"

He prob'ly found out the cemeteries are crowded with people who thought the country couldn't get along without 'em.

A politico was defending the President's defense of Gen. Vaughan, who accepted a medal from dictator Peron.

"Truman's very loyal," said the defender. "He doesn't care what any of the colyumists think."

"If he's so loyal," sarcasm'd a colyumist, "why doesn't he care what FDR would have thought?"

Two political reporters this Summer will unveil a book to explain the fluke that elected Mr Truman. They will show, they say—that contrary to political history—the President was carred to victory by Congressional and State Democratic candidates

In N. Y. State, it appears, nearly 100,000 voters voted for others on the ticket but did not vote for either Truman or Dewey. The total popular vote was 48,680.416. Truman got 24,104,836.

A slight margin, but Truman failed to win the majority of the popular vote because most voters opposed or ignored him.

Although Memories of Last War Dim, Grief Still Seen at Pier

UNDER a grey sky the big transport slowly berthed at a vast Brooklyn pier hung with many banners.

A crowd of 400 stood silently on the pier to welcome home the 6,785 silent passengers on the ship—sailors done with the sea, soldiers done with war.

An open hatch disclosed a few of the flag-draped coffins that thronged the vessel. It was the Barney Kirschbaum named for the first American sea captain to lose his life in the second World War.

And then this took place

An Army band played the National Anthem. There was a moment of silent prayer.

Tall, gray-haired Col. Edward R Martin, a chaplain who spent 55 months overseas, spoke briefly. He said the world soon forgot the sacrifices of brave men but that a greater power beyond human understanding "comforts us in our hour of need."

"We must realize," said the chaplain, "that these men gave their lives for freedom—liberty not for one individual nor for one nation, but for the entire world, for all races and creeds, in order that they may call their home their own."

There was a final prayer, and then the sounding of "Taps." As it ended, far down the pier another bugler took up the notes. He sent them back, faint and low, and every echo tore open a human heart. The pier was to small to hold so many old memories.

The band struck up "Onward Christian Soldeirs." The honor guard and a detachment of troops marched out in formation. The ceremony was over.

The crowd walked to the edge of the pier and looked down into the open hatch of the vessel.

It happened suddenly. A stout, middle-aged woman sank to her knees and began to sob.

"My baby, oh, my baby!"

She became incoherent:

"I used to wave goodbye to the ships when they sailed. My baby, oh, my baby!"

Her grief ran through the group like a widening surf, wetting the eyes of other mothers, wives, and sisters Some broke down and their men folks had to lead them away. In a few minutes more the long pier was empty.

It was dusk. A light wind stirred the long banners—the flags of every state and every fighting unit that saw action overseas. And then men moved aboard the vessel to take off the dead who had made the long voyage home.

This same scene has taken place on this same pier many times in the last two years But there will be few more such homecomings on this scale.

All but some 20,000 of the 160,000 American dead of World War Two who are being returned have already come back. The main task has been completed in less than half the five years expected.

Soon the faraway battlefields will be tidy again. Or as tidy as a battlefield can be, when the men who fought there have gone back home—where they used to live.

Eviction Action Dismissed

Court Continues Two Other Cases

Two common pleas court cases have been dismissed while two others scheduled for last week were continued after the parties indicated they would settle.

A journal entry showed that an action brought by Mrs. Josephine Bonner to prevent William Jones, of 129 North Adams street, from evicting her and her five children, has been settled.

She dismissed her petition, which was filed last Aug. 23 and in which she claimed Jones had attempted to evict her from the house at 124 North Adams street, giving her 10 days notice. She contended that under the rent law she was entitled to 60-days notice.

Dismissed was a case filed by W. H. Paramore, of Crestline, against Loren Snyder. Paramore said the case was settled and ked for the dismissal. He had asked for appointment of a receiver in a farm partnership set up by him and Snyder.

He claimed that he and Snyder could not agree on the care and marketing of livestock, after they made an oral agreement for Paramore to work Snyder's farm in Butler township and share the crops.

Two cases scheduled for Friday were continued after the parties indicated they would settle.

One of these was a $8,319 suit by Harold E. Garverick, against June E. Gordon, of 641 Woodhill road, for labor and materials used in remodeling her residence. She had filed a cross-petition for $12,500 claiming the work was defective and did not follow architect's plans.

The other, filed by Raymond D Ashman jr., of Lakewood, and the Employers' Fire Insurance company, of Cleveland asked that a conveyance of a lot in Mansfield by Peter H. Jordon to his wife, Esther, be declared void. The plaintiffs had asked that the lot be sold to pay a judgment of $40 for Ashman and $549 for the insurance company, won in municipal court.

Mrs. Harter Dies at 74

Mrs. Carrie Belle Harter, 74, wife of Walter S. Harter of Bellville and mother of Paul E. Harter of the Wappner funeral home, died this morning at General hospital following a brief illness.

Mrs. Harter was born near Bellville and had spent most of her life in that community. She was a member of the Lutheran church there.

Surviving besides the husband are three sons, Paul E. and Robert A., both of Mansfield and Richard P. of Cleveland; one daughter, Mrs. O. P. Smith of Mansfield; and one sister, Mrs. Mabel Keiser of Akron; one brother, Charles Adams of Cleveland; three grandchildren.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where arrangements are incomplete.

Grange Schedules Tuesday Meeting

Roseland Grange will hold its March meeting in Delano lodge hall, Bowman street, Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the degree team from Ganges will be guests at the meeting and exemplify the work for a number of candidates.

Following the business meeting, there will be a program and refreshments.

600 Hear Evangelist

Series Opens In School Auditorium

Six hundred persons heard Rev. Jack Shuler speak on the subject of "Soul Winning" at the first of a three-week series of evangelistic meetings in the Johnny Appleseed auditorium last night.

"Christ alone can save the world," Rev. Shuler declared, "but Christ can't save the world alone. The great manifestation that one is a Christian is leading another soul to Christ."

Les Barnett, accompanist for the series of meetings, gave a demonstration of double instrument playing. With one hand he played the organ and with the other the piano. His first number on the organ alone was "He Will Fill Your Heart to Overflowing." For his double number he presented "There is Power in the Blood."

Harry Clark, veteran song leader who was at one time with Billy Sunday, led the audience in singing and as a solo sang, "The Stranger of Galilee." The 100-voice choir sang under his direction, "I Love to Tell the Story."

Tonight is Sunday school night. Delegates from the 25 churches participating are expected to be present. The largest delegation will receive the famed "Head of Christ" by Sallamn, as an award.

Rev. Shuler's subject for tonight is "The High Crime of Spiritual Birth Control."

Happy Hearts Club Elects

Janet Berry will head the Happy Hearts 4-H club during the coming year, it was announced today. She was elected at a meeting held at the home of Charlene Bayer, Woodville road, Friday evening.

Other new officers of the club include Helen Eckstrome, vice president; Jacqueline Logan, secretary; Martha Emerson, treasurer; Sonia Rinehart, recreation leader; and Stella Logan, News reporter.

Sonia Rinehart was admitted to the club as a new member, and Miriam Emerson attended as a visitor.

Club members participated in the 4-H tag day Saturday and held a bake sale at the Third Street market the same day

The next meeting will be held at the home of Wilnetta Secrist Plainview avenue, April 15.

Roseland Parents To Meet Wednesday

An organization meeting of parents of the Roseland school district will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at the school.

Plans will be made for the forming of a P-TA for the school. Mrs. E. G. Pankow, president of the Mansfield P-TA council will be present to help discuss plans.

All parents, teachers and interested community residents were invited to attend, Raymond Dent, principal, said today.

Brotherhood Essay Victors Get Awards

One hundred members of the B'brith and its auxiliary, parents of the winners in a local "Brotherhood" essay contest and friends, attended the "awards" program last night at the B'nai Jacob Temple, 50 Sturges avenue.

The six winners, whose essays were adjudged the best among 70 entries in the National Brotherhood week contest sponsored by the B'nai Brith lodge, were present to receive their cash awards.

These six included Jane Germany and Bill Schettler, first prize of $15. Sally Stevens and Edythe Browarsky, second of $7.50 and Ellen Jo Fankhauser and Michael Clement, third of $2.50 each

Following the awards presentation by Mrs. Albert E. Cousins, chairman of the contest, each of the winners read his winning essay.

In addition to the presentation, a book review on "The Birth of Israel" was given by Mrs. Charles Zelkowitz, an attorney of Mt. Vernon The serving of refreshments followed the program.

Among the guests last night were the three judges, Rev. Matthew G. Madden, Rev. John G. Gensel and Rabbi Moshe Goldblum, each of whom was presented with a gift.

The group has issued an invitation to all interested to attend the meeting

LABORER DIES

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Frank Morrison, secretary emeritus of the American Federation of Labor, died Saturday at the age of 89.

Few Vets Ask For Allowance

Less than a third of Ohio's 850,000 World War II veterans have applied for and received any benefits from the Servicemen's Readjustment Allowance program since its inauguration in 1944.

This was brought out today by Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Ohio Unemployment Bureau, in a report showing an overwhelming majority of Ohio vets have made a rapid occupational adjustment in the post war period

The maximum allowance provided by the federal government for each vet, $1,040, was received by less than three per cent of the Ohio veterans. Up until Dec. 31, 1948, the fund has paid out nearly $100,000,000 to 279,000 Ohio ex-servicemen.

Give Drivers' Exams at Club

Headquarters for administration of drivers' license examinations has been changed from the Armory to the 40 et 8 club, 200 Ashland road at Central avenue.

Examinations, under the supervision of the Mansfield post, state highway patrol, will be given from 9 a m. to 4:30 p.m. on Fridays and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Cpl. J. L. Bishop, head of the patrol post, said the change was made Friday. New headquarters, he said, affords more parking space for applicants.

SHE PREFERS OHIO—

Sunny California is not so sunny, according to Mrs. Glen Baker, former Mansfielder who now lives in Hollister, Calif. Writing of her experiences in a recent earthquake she said, "Give us the thunder and lightning of Ohio in exchange for the quakes, fog and cold nights of California. She and her husband moved to California in July, 1947, after having lived here for 22 years. Since they moved to California they've experienced four earthquakes. The last occurred last week, she said, when they were awakened at 4:30 a. m. Beds were swaying, walls shaking, chandeliers swinging, and everything loose was rattling, she added. She said it lasted 11 minutes but it seemed like hours to them. Many large buildings in Hollister were damaged. Two large windows at the furniture store where her husband works were broken and a third was cracked.

'Bricker Economy' Blasted

Need More Funds, Allarding Says

Drew Pearson's Sunday night blast at the "economy of ex-Gov. John W. Bricker" for "over-crowded, understaffed and under-paid" conditions at Mansfield reformatory brought a "we must have more funds" reply today from Acting Superintendent George Allarding.

Former OSR Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said he had "no comment" to make on the Pearson charge, adding that the state welfare department is making "a very desperate effort to inaugurate a better penal program." Glattke, now chief of the bureau of correction, made the statement in Columbus.

Pearson, News-Journal columnist, said the two youths who staged a daring train robbery last week in West Virgina, were "products of the Mansfield reformatory where there is no full-time psychiatrist.

He then charged OSR workers are underpaid, the institution is understaffed and overcrowded.

The conditions, he said, resulted from the "economy of John W. Bricker."

BOTH HAD TESTS

Both men who were involved in the West Virginia robbery were paroled after being given psychiatric exams by the late Dr. Murray Fowler, former full-time psychiatrist at the institution, Supt. Allarding said. Dr. Fowler died last February. Both also had "good conduct" records at the OSR.

No full-time psychiatrist has been hired by the welfare department for the OSR since Dr. Fowler's death.

Only special cases requested for psychiatic examination by the State Pardon and Parole commission, come to the attention of a psychiatist who makes monthly visits at OSR, Allarding said.

Glattke said the department hopes soon to have a full-time psychiatist appointed for the reformatory.

"Everyone committed to the institution had an examination by Dr. Fowler while he was here," Allarding stated.

Answering the "over-crowded" charge, Allarding said, "things are not as bad as they were some time ago. I wouldn't say we were really overcrowded; we keep two men to a cell but that's been the practice here for some time.

"We could use more staff members, trained for this kind of work," the acting superintendent continued. "The Civil Service commission sets our quota of men and the law needs a revision.

"Pay is too low in jobs here to attract the men who have been specifically trained for penal work. The scale is $150, $160 and $170 a month plus cost of living bonuses. If we want to improve our penal system and have adequate institutions, we must have the money to carry out the program."

Glattke, who said he "believed" his new penal program was "making a little progress," said the program includes a new reformatory, possibly at the Grafton honor farm; a 400-bed addition to Lima state hospital to care for psychiatric criminals and defective delinquents and a classification center in Columbus where incoming prisoners would be examined and placed in the proper institution.

"We hope to send the better type inmates who can be rehabilitated, out to the OSR, and the others for which there is little hope for rehabilitation, to the Ohio penitentiary," he added.

Display Shows Reproduction Of Work By Roger Williams

To commemorate a great historical date of 305 years ago on March 14, the Richland Trust company today placed on display an enlarged reproduction of Roger Williams' best-known work, "The Bloudy Tenent of Persecution." The original is displayed on the Freedom train. The exhibit will be at the bank for the next two weeks.

Roger Williams, a young, well-educated English minister, had come to Boston in 1631 to begin a career in an atmosphere of new freedom. His broad tolerance was unique in the American colonies. He established a system of land ownership far more democratic than that which existed in Massachusetts. His political system was likewise marked by its liberality.

Even from a distance the Massachusetts authorities were made fearful by the existence of such "ungodly and subversive notions." An armed band from Massachusetts invaded Rhode Island and seized a few of the inhabitants. Then Massachusetts tried a more subtle approach to the problem. They attempted to secure for themselves a patent for the Narragansett region; this would enable them to snuff out the independent existence of the unwelcome neighbors to the south.

To forestall this action Williams went to England to request a charter for his colony. He was successful and the charter for the Providence Plantations in the Narragansett Bay region was issued on March 14, 1644.

In his "Bloudy Tenent" he proclaimed his celebrated statement for religious freedom. He said "God requireth not an uniformity of Religion," and contended that all individuals and religious bodies were entitled to religious liberty as a natural right. His statement on religious freedom stands out like a beacon light in an age when religious intolerance darkened the minds of men.

Evelyn Marshman Tops Annual Pin Blasting

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—There is breathtaking news emanating from the baseball spring training camps these days with the combination of morning glories which bloom in the spring and the revitalized veterans promising an eight-team pennant tie in each league.

Take Harry Gumbert, relief pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, for instance. The Reds finished a slow seventh last season but Gumbert is a holdout and it is surprising that General Manager Warren Giles would allow a paltry $4,000 difference to keep Harry out of uniform.

For Gumbert allows that he was the deciding factor in winning 28 games for the Reds last year—quite a feat considering that the club only won a total of 64. Now if Gumbert wins 28 again and Ewell Blackwell got 20, four other starters of last season might equal last season's marks. Give two to Kent Peterson, 11 to Ken Raffensberger, 17 to Johnny Vander Meer and 11 to Herman Wehmeier and you have a total of 89 90 figures to win the flag. See how easy it is? And for just four grand.

The Braves must be awaiting Saturday's game against the Dodgers with some trepidation. Pistol Pete Reiser will be in the Boston outfield against his old mates. The fences should be set back, because Pete will knock himself out against any available wall at any time to beat the Bums, and that word is used advisedly considering his feelings for his old club.

The Yanks are drooling at the usual spring blooming of Don Johnson, a young righthanded pitcher who is a perennial March Walter Johnson—and an April minor leaguer. Meanwhile, Joe DiMaggio has toe blisters to go with his heel spurs, apparently assuring him another great year. And they insist that Yogi Berra will learn to throw to second. Which means that your young son can master French in six easy lessons.

Johnny Mize, according to spring propaganda, takes batting practice before the rest of the squad has breakfast. Probably to hold him all summer as he sits in the cool dugout and shuns such labor in the heat. And Walker Cooper admits that the Giants need a good, standout pitcher. Which hardly qualifies him as a man of vision.

Branch Rickey's Vero Beach kindergarten mysteriously mutters the praises of the ancient preacher Roe. The only deduction to be drawn from that is that the Dodger diaper brigade must be slow learning its ABC's.

But Pittsburgh Manager Billy Meyer is happy. Ralph Kiner has started ramming homers. Now Billy can go back to worrying about his pitching, catching, first base, second base, shortstop, third base, center field and right field. Left field is under control.

Lou Boudreau promises to keep an eye on Pitcher Roy Welmaker. He owes his Cleveland berth, Steve Gromek, Bob Lemon, Bob Feller and Early Wynn, more than one.

Gerry Priddy of the Browns, before belatedly signing his contract, worked out and then left on a week's vacation. Probably figured he needed it after all that work, watching the Browns probably being the hardest stunt in all sports.

The Red Sox were happy because Ted Williams doesn't intend to be kidding about quitting. He says he will—if he has an oil well come in or something leaves him a millionaire. Both are improbables at the moment, he admitted.

Top-Seeded Star Leads Two Events

Evelyn Marshman, the Women's city bowling tournament's top-seeded competitor, is really living up to her record.

As the doors swung shut on the first week-end of the tournament last night, she led in three of four possible departments—singles, doubles, and all-events scratch. She bowed in the all-events total division to Hon Wehinger.

A handicap of a single pin per game—lowest in the meet—failed to stymie Ev in the singles division yesterday. she took 155 in her first game but sizzled the Colony lanes for 227 and 203 in the last two to come home with a 588. She would have held first easily without using any handicap at all.

In doubles she was almost as destructive, cutting down 525 pins to pair with Sis DeWeese's 502 for a 1027 net. The two had a 24 pin handicap for 1051, 21 pins better than Jean Douville and Naomi Shaffer who came in second with 1032.

LEADS ALL EVENTS

Her scores of yesterday coupled with a 456 in team competition Saturday night easily put Ev in the van in the all-events scratch division with 1566. Wehinger had a 1616 total for lead in the all-event with handicap.

Doubles

Kentucky Cage Feudists Play Today In Annual NIT

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK—(INS)—Kentucky and Western Kentucky start a fightin' and a feudin' and a fussin' in the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden this afternoon.

Here is a feud which will go down in court history along with the Hatfield and McCoy vendettas. Arrogant Kentucky repeatedly has ignored and snubbed Western Kentucky, whose Hilltoppers even tried putting a bill through the Kentucky legislature forcing the Wildcats to play them.

The two blue grass rivals will not play each other today, but will tangle before the week is over, if the seedings come through on schedule. This afternoon, Kentucky encounters Loyola of Chicago, which defeated City College 62 to 47, and Western Kentucky faces Bradley, which eliminated New York university, 89 to 67.

FIRST IN HISTORY

Kentucky, in quest of an unprecedented double slam, is favored to become the first team in history to win both the invitation and the NCAA tourneys.

The Wildcats have been beaten only once all season. They have two feuds on their hands in this one. If they succeed in toppling Western Kentucky, the Cats will jump from a defensive role into that of an aggressor when they tackle the St. Louis Billikens, the only team which has beaten them during the current campaign.

Kentucky faces a formidable foe in Loyola. The Chicago outfit is paced by Jack Kerris, the pivot-making pivot. His 26-point total against City College speaks for his scoring ability.

St. Louis, defending champ, would have equalled Kentucky's record this season had it not been for Oklahoma A. & M. The Aggies handed the Billikens two of their three defeats.

MUTT AND JEFF

San Francisco, with a flashy Mutt and Jeff combination of 6-6 Don Lofgran and 5-9 Rene Herrerias, is conceded the best chance to score a tournament upset. The Dons clipped Manhattan 68-43 Saturday while Bowling Green, another dark horse, was beating St. John's 77 to 64.

★

Loyola, paced by six and a half feet of Jack Kerris, has won 23 of 28 games, including an under-wraps 62-47 decision over City College of New York in the first round of the tournament Saturday night.

Two of Loyola's victories were over Bowling Green. And Kentucky voted Bowling Green, which it beat by two points, the best team it played all year.

The night program matches Utah and San Francisco at 8 p. m. and Bowling Green against defending champion St. Louis at about 9:45.

Fireworks Set To Pop In New York Courts

NEW YORK — (AP) — Legal fireworks start popping today in moves to break down organized baseball's reserve clause.

Frederic A. Johnson, attorney for Danny Gardella, said he would seek a federal court writ today restoring the former giants' outfielder to active play until his $300,000 suit against the game is settled.

Tomorrow two other major league players suspended for jumping to the Mexican league—Max Lanier and Fred Martin, both former St. Louis Cardinal pitchers — will seek reinstatement pending settlements of their damage suits amounting to $2,500,000.

Officers of the game have been directed to show cause tomorrow why bans on Lanier and Martin shouldn't be lifted immediately and why the players shouldn't be permitted to dicker on contracts not containing the reserve clause.

It's the reserve clause, that part of every baseball contract which binds a player to one team until that team is ready to dispose of him, that is under fire in these separate suits.

Hamline Walk Over Cage 5's

KANSAS CITY, MO. — (UP) — The Pied Pipers of Hamline marched so vigorously through the ranks of the Naib basketball tournament that they left in their wake today no doubt whatsoever about their superiority in the mammoth 32-team field.

It wasn't even close as the Pipers punched out points at just a whisker less than a 70 point a game clip.

Certainly, the record crowd of 10,000 that saw the Pipers trounce Regis college of Denver, 57 to 46, in the grand finale on Saturday night were convinced of Hamline's power.

Grand Circuit Purses Go Up Ten Percent

NEW YORK — (AP) — Purses at 14 Grand Circuit harness race meetings this year will total $2,290,000 or ten per cent more than a year ago.

Estimated Grand Circuit purse totals included Delaware fair, Delaware, O., Sept. 19-24, $100,000.

Orlie Grable Hits 626 In Special 'Go'

Only two 600 series were clipped off on the Colony Bowling alleys last night and those were in a special match.

Orlie Grable of Liederkranz was the only Mansfield bowler to get onto the honor roll as he led his team to a victory over the Bellevue Moose. H. Birkholz of Bellevue banged out a 642 on games of 212-212-218 for the top score. Grable had games of 232-182-212—626. Carl Englehorn had a 589 in the match.

★

Nick Wilhelm, rolling in the Sons of Herman league, missed but certainly not by much. He tossed games of 188-194-217 for a 599 count. Runner-up in the loop was John Hoff with 557. Joe Hetler had 546; Ray Page, 541; M. Siwek, 539; and Leo Hetler, 532.

Bill Hetler was high single game and the most-inconsistent of the day. He had games of 116-228-140.

Bertha Young led the Daughters of Herman with 162-133-155—450. Helen Kurek had 443, Kay Richards, 432. Mary McIntire 407 and Lena Aston, 406.

★

C. McMullen topped Mansfield Owl leaguers Saturday night, with a 178-194-189—561 score. Joe Leathers came in second with 547, P. Harbaugh and J. Ibe had 533, Ralph Nelson, 524 and B. Windsor 516.

Flyers Lead Puck League

(By International News Service)

The St. Louis flyers held a slight lead today in the American hockey league's western division race as the top four entries threatened to end in a photo-finish in the final five days.

St. Louis barely edged the Buffalo Bisons, 3-2, last night to take over the top spot in the western sector while the idle Cleveland Barons dropped into a second place tie with Indianapolis.

Indianapolis whipped Hershey 6-3 to keep up with the Barons who are one point out of first place.

Louis Considering Six Cities for Bout

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Promoter Joe Louis and his business partners are considering six cities as a possible site for the Ezzard-Joe Walcott match, he said yesterday.

Under consideration for the fight—already sanctioned by the national boxing association—are Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Giants Drop Feller, Wynn to 7-4 Defeat

TUCSON, Ariz. — (INS) — Righthander Steve Gromek was to start on the hill for the Cleveland Indians at Tucson today as they continued their spring series with the New York Giants.

Frank Papish, the southpaw obtained from the Chicago White Sox, was to follow Gromek to the mound. Dave Koslo and Ray Poat were to hurl for the New Yorkers.

The two Tribe flingers hope to have better luck than did Bob Feller and Early Wynn yesterday when the world champions were dropped, 7-4, at the Giants' Phoenix training camp.

The Tribe took an early 2-0 lead in the first inning when Dale Mitchell cracked a home run and Larry Doby and Artie Wilson poled successive doubles.

FOUR OFF BOBBY

With Feller on the mound in the third, however, the Empire City sluggers bunched four hits to score as many runs. They added two more in the fifth off Wynn and one in the eighth at the expense of Sad Sam Zoldak.

The Redskins sent one more marker across the dish in the fourth when Robert Avila walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a loud single off the bat of Wynn, who collected two for two in the three innings he was in the contest.

Manager Lou Boudreau, in the role of a pinchhitter, batted the Indians' final run over the plate in the eighth. He singled with runners on first and second for the last score of the game.

REDSKINS OUTHIT

Although they came out on the short end of the score, the Redskins were outhit by only one bingle, 12-11. The New Yorkers, however, bunched their blows in the third and fifth innings to gain revenge for the trouncing the Tribesmen handed them the day before.

Dale Mitchell of the Tribe and Johnny Mize of the Giants took hitting honors with three apiece. Besides his home run, Mitchell collected two singles. Mize hit for a double and two one-basers.

Giants' Rigney Okay In Week

PHOENIX, Ariz., — (UP) — Billy Rigney, New York giants second-baseman who was stricken with a heart attack yesterday, will be able to return to action in one week, the giants' team physician said today.

Rigney collapsed in the dressing room yesterday after the giants' game against the Clevelan Indians. He was taken to St. Monica hospital.

Dr. Anthony Palermo, described Rigney's trouble as "functional" rather than "organic" and said he had been given drugs to relieve the nervous, rapid heart beat which caused the attack.

Senators Defeat Athletics, 6-2

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. — (UP) — The Philadelphia athletics returned to routine training chores today following their 6 to 2 setback at the hands of the Washington Senators yesterday.

Pitcher Jim Wilson, who followed Dick Fowler and Alex Kellner to the mound for the A's yesterday, was the chief victim of the Nats' attack, being touched for six of Washington's 10 hits in the seventh and eighth innings.

The Senators, who returned to their Orlando base after the contest, play host there to the Philadelphia Phillies today.

Cubs and Browns Each Lose Pair

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — The Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Browns, each smarting under two straight defeats, today attempted to crash the win column at the expense of each other.

Chicago suffered its second successive beating at the hands of Pittsburgh, 3 to 1, yesterday, gathering only three hits off Elmer Riddle, Vic Lombardi and Kirby Higbe. The Browns lost their second straight to the White Sox, 8 to 5.

★

Trade Rumors Heard In Camp

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — Trade rumors were being heard today in the spring training camp of the Cincinnati Reds.

The rumors involved the possible swapping of third baseman Grady Hatton to the Brooklyn Dodgers. They were strengthened a bit yesterday when Ray Blades, Dodger coach, showed up in Tampa after Warren Giles, the Redleg president, had talked with Branch Rickey of the Dodgers by long distance telephone.

The red definitely are in the market for another starting pitcher and-or an established big league outfielder.

On the activity side, there was the week-end split of a pair of games with the Boston Red Sox.

The Reds went to the Sox camp at Sarasota Saturday and emerged with a 10-inning 5 to 3 victory.

Yesterday, the Sox returned the visit and took advantage of shoddy pitching, hitting, fielding and base running to get a 7 to 2 triumph.

★

Healthy Hitting Dodger Feature

MIAMI — (AP) — Rookie Cal Abrams' healthy hitting is one of the highlights of the Brooklyn Dodgers' spring training.

The Brooklyn outfielder laced out four of the Dodgers' nine hits yesterday—including a homer and a grounds-rule double—as Brooklyn won their second straight from the Boston Braves, 6-0.

Johnny Sain, Boston's ace hurler, was the victim.

Hamner Taking Charge of Post

CLEARWATER, FLA. — (AP) — Granville Hamner, who is rapidly taking charge of shortstop matters for the Philadelphia Phillies, looks like a man to be feared at the plate.

In two exhibition games against the Detroit Tigers, Hamner has pounded out five hit in nine times at bat. Yesterday, Granny had two singles as the Phils turned back the Tigers,

Red Sox Battle New York Yanks

SARASOTA, FLA. — (AP) — The Boston Red Sox travel to St. Petersburg today to meet the New York Yankees in a grapefruit league contest.

The St. Louis Cards got only four hits yesterday in losing to the Yankees, 3 to 1. Long John Lindell clouted a long homer for the Yanks.

Sharkey to 'Ref'

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Ex-heavyweight boxing champion Jack Sharkey will referee the Orville Brown-Frank Sexton wrestling match for the world's mat championship Tuesday night in Cleveland.

Gold Medal Meet Winds Up Tonight

Two weeks of play in the city's first Gold Medal tournament will be climaxed tonight by the championship finals between Penn Auto-Sporting Goods and Shelby Gump's.

Gump's is generally rated the favorite in the game which will go on as the second of a three-tilt program at Johnny Appleseed junior high gym. Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store and Urschel Insurance play for consolation honors at 7 p. m. while at 9 the Mansfield All-Stars will take on the Willard All-Stars.

Trophies and medals will be awarded to tournament competitors between the second and third games.

SHELBY CHAMPION

Gump's is the Shelby City league champion while Penn Auto won the second half Mansfield championship but fell to first half winner Ohio Sport Center in the playoff.

The All-Stars will be making their final appearance in a warm-up capacity before taking on the Cleveland Browns in the Friendly House benefit game Wednesday.

Ed Vanderbilt, the much-traveled cager who played regularly here, at Shelby, and at Willard during the year is one of the mainstays of the invading Willard quintet.

Lack of Dust Puts Damper On Pin Scores

ATLANTIC CITY — (AP) — The lack of dust particles is, strange as it may seem, affecting the scores in the American bowling congress tournament here.

With the tournament now into the second half of its schedule and with some of the best teams in the country already having participated, ABC officials are not looking forward to any new records.

Some of them expressed the opinion today that the scores already leading the various divisions will not be altered to any extent.

LEADS TEAMS

The current top scores show Miller High Life Beer of Brooklyn leading the team event with 2995; Charles Carnegie and Ed Montgomery, Phila, topping the doubles with 1306; Howard Eaket, Grand Rapids, Mich., leading the singles with 709 and John Small, Chicago, out in front for the all-events crown with a 1941 total.

Last year 3009 won the team event at Detroit; 1361 was tops in the doubles; 721 was high for the singles, and 1979 led the all-events.

The air of this seashore resort almost is completely free of dust, consequently there is little, if any, settlement on the alleys. And, as one ABC official pointed out "a slight settlement of dust on the alleys can make it easier for the bowlers to hook a ball."

'Am' Golf Champ Runs For Mayor

NEW YORK — (AP) — Willie Turnesa, the U. S. amateur golf champion, has a big test coming up tomorrow.

He's running for mayor of his home town—the cozy township of Elmsford, N. Y., population 3,078.

"If I'm elected I won't have to give up competitive golf," the little 35-year-old ironmaster declared. "The mayor's duties are not fulltime—just a couple of meetings a month."

Nikan Counts Big 51 Total

(By United Press)

George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers continued his relentless attack on basketball records tonight as the National Basketball association moved into the home stretch of the season.

Mikan, who already has set a single season scoring record and several club and game records, poured in 51 points to lead the Lakers to a 101-74 victory over the Fort Wayne Pistons. He made 19 of 41 field goal attempts and 13 of 16 free throws.

Dodgers' Manager Is Optimistic

By HUGO H. PETERSEN

VERO BEACH, Fla. — (UP) — Here in the Dodger camp they prove the pessimists for the National League pennant are wrong. Manager Shotton had an air of optimism today and left no doubt in what he feels the Bums are going to live up to their name.

That feeling runs for Shotton right on down the line.

"Of course, I'm optimistic," Shotton said. "I'm always that way. It doesn't cost a bit more. I found that out 50 years ago. I never saw anyone ever win who didn't think they could win."

Shotton has three big problems, but "none of them are beyond solution."

"For instance, I have five good looking third basemen that most other clubs would be happy to have. My job is to pick out the best one. The same goes for the outfield where I have nine men fighting for the jobs. I'm going to have to look at them a lot more before I will be able to make up my mind."

His other problem is to find a power hitter which the Dodgers lacked last season, but he hopes that either Duke Snider or Gil Hodges will fill that spot. Both have the power, but have been spotty hitters.

Hodges will play first and Shotton believes the experience he had last year will help him to become a more consistent hitter. "I've known all along he was going to be my first baseman," he said, "and I know too that he is going to hit."

The Brooklyn pilot, beginning his 40th year in baseball, said Billy Cox, a disappointment last year, has "looked great so far and might win the third base job."

"But it's too early to tell," he added. "There are 268 players in this camp and all of them have a chance to make the club.

Mansfield Draws Bowling Green In Regional

Tyger Cage Record Tops Three Teams

Mansfield Senior high school got a "break" in the drawings yesterday when officials picked up the option for the Tygers to meet Bowling Green in the first round of the regional basketball tournament in Toledo.

The Tygers will battle the BeeGee's Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Toledo U. fieldhouse with Toledo Central Catholic meeting Columbus Central in the second contest at 8:45 p. m. Winners of the Friday games collide Saturday for the championship and a state tourney berth.

Bowling Green is one of the three teams still in the Class A fight which has a record slightly under that of the Mansfield team. The Tygers have won 18 and lost seven while the Bowling Green club has 14 wins and six defeats. Columbus has 24 wins and one defeat while Toledo has 23 and three.

Mansfield also has a ten-point per game bulge in the offensive tables, 52.2 to 42.1 for Bowling Green. However, the latter club is tops on defense, 36.3 to 43.3. Bowling Green's defense is the sixth best among the 16 while Senior high rates sixth on offense.

With an opportunity to go all the way to the state title hinging on the result of Friday's battle, Mansfield and Bowling Green must be rated on even terms. Bowling Green blasted Toledo Whitmer, 40 to 25, for the sectional title and then eliminated Port Clinton, 63 to 48, and Toledo Libbey, 58 to 43 in the district.

The BeeGee club twice defeated Fostoria in regular season play, 45 to 29 and 50 to 34. With the chips down in the district, Mansfield knocked off the Redmen, 52 to 45.

Mansfield's 74-to-43 revenge victory over Bellevue Saturday night gave the Tygers scoring honors for the night. Lancaster was second with 71 in defeating Portsmouth, 71 to 43. Lakewood was third with a 64-to-50 win over Cleveland Lincoln.

BEST OFFENSIVES

The Toledo and Columbus teams present the best offensives in the state. Toledo has rolled up 58.8 points per game while the Columbus club has a 58 3 mark.

Some 800 tickets for the Friday night session at Toledo went on sale this morning at Senior high school. If the Tygers get by Bowling Green, tickets for the championship game will be sold at Senior high Saturday morning.

The Tygers will hold two workouts on the Toledo floor this week. They will drill in the fieldhouse tomorrow from 2 to 4 p. m. and Wednesday from 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. The squad will stay overnight tomorrow and come back to Mansfield to wind up its drills Thursday afternoon.

Mansfield will also stay over in Toledo Friday night, win or lose, and Coach Vern Hoffman feels his squad will come out on top. Senior high has now won five straight tournament games and needs only four more wins to take its first state title since 1909.

Big Nine Court Teams Draw Less Fans Into Arenas

CHICAGO — (AP) —Big nine basketball teams played before 566,936 fans in this year's 54-game conference campaign, a slump of about 22,000 from last year, an unofficial estimate has disclosed.

Last year's total was 588,988.

Five schools showed a turnstile increase, but Iowa slipped from 93,235 last year to 76,132; Michigan dropped from 49,600 to 41,701; and northwestern, playing all six home league games at Chicago stadium, dipped from 89,620 to 75,477.

Wisconsin matched last year's 78,000 total.

UP A BIT

Champion Illinois edged up from 41,405 to 41,430. Indiana squeezed in 59 more fans with 59,161.

Ohio State had the biggest increase, almost 9,000, with a jump from 29,394 to 38,373. Purdue also had a substantial increase, from 54,650 to 62,500.

Minnesota played its six home games before 94,162, slightly topping last year's 93,472.

Millhon, Rixey Top Scorers

(By International News Service)

The returns are complete, the results final—Jud Millhon and Eppa Rixey are the new Ohio conference basketball scoring champions.

According to loop cage scoring statistics released today, Millhon, the upper Arlington flash from Ohio Wesleyan, walked off with total-point honors all by himself, racking up 499 markers.

Rixey, Kenyon's two-time all-Ohio, was tops in conference averages with a 21.3-point per contest mark.

Millhon also was second in the averages with a mark of 20.08, while Rixey finished third in total scoring with 38.4. Millhon saw action in 24 games and Rixey in 18.

All-America Teams Work Out Schedules

CHICAGO — (INS) — All-America Football conference officials wended their homeward ways today after reaching an agreement for a 1949 schedule in a two-day meeting in Chicago

Commissioner O. O. Kessing said each team in the seven-club league will announce its own schedule at its own discretion.

Middletown to Get New Grid Stadium

MIDDLETOWN—(AP)—Sites for two new buildings—an armory and a high school football stadium—were approved in Middletown last night.

The high school football stadium will be built on nine acres of ground in the south end of the city. City commissioners who approved construction said they understand it will seat between 7,000 and 9,000 persons.

The Eastern Intercollegiate League Golf championship will be held at Annapolis, Md., on May 14.

This Dog Pointed Wrong Way

By HARMAN W. Nichols

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Get a bunch of elk-hunters and bird-shooters and trout-snaggers together and you hear a lot of tall ones.

They act as though they don't want you listening in. But they really do and will ben. your ear double if you give them half a chance.

That's the way it was around the headquarters of the North American wildlife conference.

There sat Bud Jackson, a field representative of the national wildlife federation, who used to be a newspaperman himself. He told one about a pointer he—or somebody — used to have out around Springfield, Mo. "Old Chaser," they called him. This dog, Bud swore on a stack of martinis, used to run so fast he had to put on the brakes and when he did, he found his hindquarters where his headquarters ought to be. In other words, the pup had kicked up such a speed he was wrongside out come quail time—and was pointing the wrong way.

Bud said that the folks in Missouri fixed that critter right, though. They taught the dog to run backward—and therefore to point the way he was supposed to.

That reminded Bob Miller of the Washington state sportsmen's group of a cross-eyed bird dog he once knew. This canine was a fancy one when it came to smelling out quail. He never missed. Nothing wrong with his nose.

But turn him loose against a lot of rabbits and the dog was lost. The bounding and fence-jumping bunnies (jack rabbits, of course) were too much for the cross-eyed pooch who finally solved the situatio by lying flat on his back. Using his sensitive nose for a guide, he would trip the rabbits as they tried to jump over him.

For no reason at all, this prompted gray-haried former Sen. Wallace H. White of Maine to ask if everybody had heard about the sweating fish the farmers called in for help during the awful drought back in the early 30's. Everybody had.

That brought Bud Jackson to attention to tell one on R. E. (Jelly) Gatewood—a backwoodsman from way back in Wyoming. Jelly had done about everything there is to do in life but hunt elk.

One day he showed up at a strange ranch house and asked, "Where is the hunting going on?"

The lady of the ranch house said it was "back of the house," which in Wyoming could be anywhere from a couple of hundred yards to a couple of hundred miles.

Jelly found himself a point of vantage — he thought — and squatted in the snow. He heard what he thought was a holler. He hollered back. This went on for some time.

Finally, Jelly figured that he was lost, but he also calculated that since he had only been gone a short time nobody could be looking for him, and the other fellow must be lost, too. So he quit hollering back.

Somehow, Jelly found his way back to camp.

A few years later, somebody told him that the call of a bull elk sounds just like a mule with his tail caught in a fence—or like a fellow elk-hunter in distress.

Unusual Drawings Spice Class A Regional Meets

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The "luck of the draw" set up some fancy, eye-attracting first round frays in Ohio's high school regional basketball tournaments for this week end.

Opening contest pairings for the "sweet 16" in Class A and Class B were made last night as the 32 teams, survivors of some 1,160 squads which started down the tourney trail in mid-February, emerged from district play.

The drawings in Class A were unusual in several spots.

At Youngstown, ths undefeated Garfield Heights team—with 22 straight wins—will tangle with Struthers, which has been beaten 12 times in 21 games, thus pitting the teams with the best and worst records against each other.

And at Kent two Akron schools —St. Vincent and Garfield—were paired, while two Cleveland schools—Central and undefeated Lakewood—meet in the other semi-final tilt.

TITANIC BATTLE

Plenty of pyrotechnics are expected at the Cincinnati Class A meet, as those two old Butler county rivals, Hamilton and Middletown, meet in the opening round. Hamilton has beaten Middletown twice this year, but the Big Blue did the same thing a couple of years ago, only to fall before the Middies when the tournament chips went down. The Middies went on to take the title.

In the other Cincinnati game Lancaster's Golden Gales and Dayton Dunbar's all-Negro squad tangle in what looms as a classic. Dunbar has dropped one game in 21, while Lancaster's tall team has been beaten twice, each time by a point, in 24 starts. Lancaster rounded out its district chores with a resounding 71-43 win over Portsmouth, only team to defeat both Hamilton and Middletown.

Columbus Central, sporting the third-best record in Class A with 24-1, takes on Toledo Catholic (23-3) at Toledo. Central Catholic, still in the tourney on "borrowed time," ousted defending champion Findlay Saturday night by 46-43. In sectional play Central Catholic was defeated by Toledo Libbey, but remained in the title chase under an arrangement by which six northwestern sectional tourneys sent both winners and runners-up into district play.

Mansfield and Bowling Green, each coming strong after not too impressive starts, meet in the other Toledo game.

Only seven of last year's 32 regional qualifiers, three in Class A and four in Class B, repeated this year. All three Class A second-timers — Columbus Central, Toledo Central Catholic and Bowling Green—are booked in the Toledo tourney. And three of the four in Class B—North Canton, Akron Ellet and Midvale —will appear in the Kent classic. Lockland Wayne, with a 29-game record marred only by a three-point defeat by Hamilton Public, is the other Class B repeater.

From the regional tournaments four Class A and four Class B teams will emerge for the state finals here March 24, 25 and 26.

PLENTY OF TALENT

Among the 32 teams still in the big cage carnival there is plenty of talent, the field lining up as one of the classiest in years. The Class A clubs have won 282 while losing 60 games, while the Class B contingent has won 352 and lost 46.

Six state titles have gone to Class A teams still in the running, and two to Class B squads. In Class A Mansfield won in 1909, Hamilton Public in 1937, New Philadelphia in 1940, and Middletown in 1944, 1946 and 1947. North Canton won the Class B laurels in 1939, and Akron Ellet in 1944.

None of the survivors can boast the recent record of Middletown. For the last eight years the Middies have reached the district finals. They came within a game of winning four straight titles by losing the 1945 final tilt to Bellevue, and they've racked up 124 victories in 136 games over the last six campaigns.

Supporting Bout Set In Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Irish Tommy McKeagney, Quincy, Mass., light heavyweight who holds a decision over battling Dick Wagner, takes on Reuben Jones in a 10-round bout in Cleveland next Monday.

The McKeagney-Jones clash will be a supporting bout to the featured Chuck Hunter-Tommy Yarosz 10-round scrap.

Bulletin

Johnny Fike, physical education director of the YMCA today announced that young men's and seniors gym classes scheduled for this evening had been called off because of the 'Y' Indian Guide's use of the gym.

Seven Bouts Set For Tyger Fight Tourney Tuesday

Seven bouts will comprise the Senior high intramural boxing tournament to be run off at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in the school gym.

The card will be open to students at 25 cent admission charge set up to clear the cost of letters for the participants. Awards will be given the 14 boys who have been working at the sport since the holidays.

Pairings for the bouts will not be made until just before the beginning of the show according to boxing director Augie Morningstar. In previous years the tournament had been held in the evening before the public but lack of interest cancelled such a plan this year.

'Clip Wings,' Group Says

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Clipping the wings of some of the nine independent government commissions by trimming away executive powers was advocated by the Hoover commission.

"Purely executive functions too frequently have been entrusted to these independent regulatory commissions," the Hoover group said in its 12th report on how the federal administrative structure might be improved.

"The consequences have not been too happy," the report said, "for a plural executive is not the best device for the performance of operational duties."

Calling for a general streamlining, the report said the commissions would be in better position to help develop the industries they regulate, fix broad policies to speed their decisions, and could consult with each other on their related fields of activity, especially in transportation.

Amvets Stand Against Bonus

DES MOINES — (AP) — The Amvets, World War II veterans organization, Saturday declared its "unequivocal opposition" to the Rankin pension bill.

The stand came in a resolution adopted unanimously by the group's national executive committee.

The American Legion was criticized in the discussion preceding adoption. The bill was termed the "cheapest form of political demagoguery" and a "raid on the American treasury."

Concrete Roof Falls; 1 Dead

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Oscar Willingham, 40, was killed and Frank Kirchheiner, 26, was injured Saturday when 20 tons of newly-poured concrete fell on them, Hamilton county police reported.

The men were at work building a garage at Kirchheiner's home when the accident occurred.

Kirchheiner told police the concrete had been poured earlier in the day to form a roof for the garage.

"We heard a splintering noise," he said, "and then the stuff was on us."

OLD IRONSIDES—Battle between Constitution (foreground) and the British man-o'-war Guerriere

155th Birthday

Famed 'Old Ironsides' Still Afloat

By JOHN PETERSEN
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON — It was in March, 155 years ago, that an aroused Congress decided it would spend "millions for defense, but not one penny for tribute" — and so the United States Navy was born.

It was the determination to put a stop, once and for all time, to the tribute payments demanded by the Barbary pirates that set the stage for the beginnings of what eventually was to grow into the greatest Navy — both in striking power and in numbers — in the world.

In 1794 Congress authorized a start of six frigates under the skilled hands of a Philadelphia Quaker named Joshua Humphreys. So well did he do his task that one of those ships is still afloat.

Its name is the Constitution — better known to millions of American school children as Old Ironsides, because in battle her side planking was so tough it seemed that the iron cannon balls of those days fairly bounced off the sides of the ship!

The ship is 175 feet long, 180 feet tall in the mainmast and armed with 44 guns. She slid down the ways at Boston in 1797 — the year John Adams, one of the founders of the "Navy of the United Colonies," was elected to be the second president of the United States.

★

THAT FIRST NAVY was disbanded in 1785, leaving the country actually without sea power for more than a decade.

The Barbary pirates of Morocco, Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli were not slow in sizing up the situation and in demanding — and getting — larger and larger sums in tribute from the new nation across the Atlantic in order to let its shipping go unmolested in and out of the Mediterranean sea.

In 1794 Uncle Sam paid $800,000 in tribute to the Barbary states. Two years later, with the six frigates still aborning on the shipways, the United States paid out over a million dollars to the Algerians in tribute and ransom for kidnaped seamen.

Newly - elected Presdient Adams decided things had gone far enough.

He campaigned for a Navy department and a secretary who would sit in the president's cabinet. In 1798 the Navy department was organized and Benjamin Stoddert, a businessman, became the first secretary of the Navy.

The first task of the new Navy was to clean up the situation off the Barbary coast.

★

UNDER COMMAND of Commodore Edward Preble the Mediterranean squadron set sail for Tripoli. Besides the Constitution, the squadron consisted of the frigates Philadelphia and John Adams, two 16-gun brigs, two schooners and the famous Enterprise.

Preble ordered the Philadelphia on to Tripoli while he stopped in at Tangiers, Morocco, to talk things over with the Sultan.

Somehow in the next month or so, the Philadelphia ran afoul in Tripoli harbor and her captain and crew were taken prisoner by the Tripolitan pirates.

Preble concluded that the frigate in the hands of the Pirates was too dangerous a thing to permit — so he planned to blow up the ship in the harbor right under the noses of her captors!

British Admiral Lord Nelson described the feat as "the most bold and daring act of the age."

Under the leadership of Stephen Decatur, 84 hand-picked American seamen, armed only with cutlasses, sailed openly into the harbor in a ketch previously captured from the pirates.

★

AT THE HELM was a Sicilian pilot who knew Tripoli's harbor like a book.

The Philadelphia was anchored under the guns of the forts ashore, aboard were pirate guards. When the ketch, renamed the Intrepid, came alongside, the pirates hailed her and the Scilian pilot answered:

"Allah yeseemliq! We are blockade runners, coming in with provisions."

"Allah be praised," was the reply. "Come alongside."

The pirates actually tossed a rope to the Intrepid to help make her secure alongside the captured Philadelphia before discovering that they had been tricked. Then, of course, it was too late!

Decatur and his men, cutlasses swinging, held 200 screaming pirates at bay, touched a fuse to the ship's magazine and raced away. Not an American was lost.

As the ketch speeded out to sea, the shore batteries opened fire, but it was too late. And then the Philadelphia blew up in a mighty roar and the deed was done.

That was but one of the many actions the United States Navy took against the pirates before finally, in 1805, returning home to the accompaniment of the praise of those other nations which had been paying tribute to the pirates, and who, despite their older and more experienced navies, left it to the new United States to clean up the situation.

Refuses to Pay Percentage of Income Tax Used for Military

YELLOW SPRINGS —(AP)— A 75-year-old Quaker widow who doesn't want to help finance military preparedness has short-changed the government on the first installment of her income tax.

Mrs. Caroline Urie, who made the news last year with a similar protest, deducted 32.3 per cent of the first installment because she said "war and preparation for war in the atomic era is a crime against humanity."

The Ohio Quaker failed last year in her publicized protest. She deducted 34.6 per cent of her estimated tax for the year. But. Congress reduced taxes in her income bracket. Her income fell enough below her estimate that at year's end the government owed her money.

She said yesterday she had made sure the same things wouldn't happen this year. She said she would withhold the full amount of military taxes by paying only the first installment of the tax now and giving herself until Jan. 15, 1950, to pay the final quarter.

In duplicate letters to President Truman and to the collector of Internal Revenue, Mrs. Urie wrote:

"I am fulfilling the responsibility implicit in the judgments rendered by the representatives of my government at the German and Japanese war trials that an individual is obligated to refuse participation in crimes against humanity."

The percentages deducted by Mrs. Urie are her own estimates.

"I do not wish to evade contributing my full share toward the welfare of society," she wrote, "and am again making an outright gift of the withheld 32.3 per cent of my tax to three non-profit agencies working for peace and the abolition of war, and am enclosing receipts with my tax return as evidence that the full amount of the tax has been paid."

Indiana Veterans To Receive Bonus

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Governor Henry F. Schricker Saturday signed the bonus bill which will benefit more than 360,000 Indiana veterans who served in the second world war.

The bill provides for payment of $10 a month for domestic service and $15 a month for overseas duty. Top payment under the plan, which was the most controversial issue of the 86th General assembly, will be $600.

Willard to Hear Duo From Africa

WILLARD — The guest speakers Sunday evening at the Willard Nazarene church were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Esselstyn, missionaries to Africa since 1928.

They have returned to this country for a year's furlough during which time Rev. Esselstyn spent one semester as visiting missionary professor in the Nazarene Theological seminary, Kansas City, Mo.

During his stay in Africa, he served as district superintendent of the African field and has taught in the mission schools there. Mrs. Esselstyn has served as nurse and teacher. Both are graduates of the Eastern Nazarene college Wollaston, Mass., and Rev. Esselstyn received his M. A. degree from the University of Boston.

They plan to return to Africa in the spring.

Brothers Fight Axe-Knife Duel

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Two brothers fought a bloody knife-axe duel to the death Saturday night in a Miami home.

The fight ended with one sprawled dead on the living room floor and the other bleeding from two axe wounds.

Detective C. B. Newton of the Miami homicide bureau identified the dead man as Frank Wynn, 31, and said his brother, Ralph, 28, was held for investigation pending an inquest.

Boy Wants Horse, Police OK Wish

WOODMERE, N. Y. — (AP) — "Dear Police Commissioner," wrote 11-year-old Michael Hewitt to New York City, "I understand you are giving away horses. I wanted one all my life."

Yesterday, up drove a big police van. Out stepped Rife on four sturdy legs. He had to bend his head down a foot to nuzzle Michael. Mike had his horse!

Will Sacrifice

If sold this week. This home must be sold right away so owner can close option on four bedroom home. This six room frame home is located in the Park area off W. Fourth St. This home was remodeled just a year ago. The plans were drawn by one of Mansfield's ablest architects and as a result we have a most attractive eye-appealing interior plus the best use made of all available space. A picture window was added to the sun room, extra windows added in the dining room, and wooden casement windows installed in breakfast nook. This adds up to twice the light and sunshine that is available in the average home. Don't worry about curtains because the windows are equipped with new drapes on cornice-covered traverse rods, all of which goes with the home. The multi-cupboarded kitchen and tile bath are both new with all new plumbing fixtures. New lighting fixtures throughout the house. Excellent hardwood floors up and down with the best grade of wall-to-wall carpeting down. The price has been reduced from $14,000 to $12,600 and terms can be arranged if you so desire.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell-out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Not One World But Three!

Islam Is Powerful Because of Oil, Minerals

King Abdullah

King Farouk

King Ibn Saud

By HOYT KING

(Written Exclusively for Central Press and The News-Journal).

NOT HAVING One World, perhaps there will not even be two, but three: Christian, Mohammedan, athiest Communist.

While we are reading all those big headlines about Communism trampling down religion in Europe, a new rise by the greatest scourge Christianity ever faced, Mohammedanism, is taking place elsewhere.

It is not a process of be converted or be beheaded as it was 1,200 years ago, when the Moors overran Spain and were finally stopped by Charles Martel at Tours. It is a process of increasing influence. You see it in datelines—Amman, Cairo, Karachi.

In the past three decades many new Moslem-ruled lands have either come into independent being or are in process—Syria, Iraq, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Pakistan, Java. All are predominantly Moslem in population, which means Moslem in government. And there are also Turkey, Trans-Jordan, Iran and Lebanon. Put them all together and they total some 221,000,000 people devoutly ready to defy the infidel—which is us.

They do not have the weapons or know-how to threaten big powers like Great Britain or the United States or Russia, but they are all represented, berobed like the prophet himself, in the United Nations.

★

POINTING to Mohammedanism (or Islam) as a rival of democracy, Dr. George P. Michaelides, president of Schnauffler College of Religious and Social Work, says: "It is indeed a political as well as a religious system. Where it has reached it has come into political power and there has been little left of democracy. Wherever Mohammedanism went it replaced other religions or reduced them to a harmless minority."

One reason Mohammedanism has so many converts is, it offers a pretty easy way of getting into heaven. Pray five times a day and you are just about set. (A lot of Christians do not even do that.)

One of the most famous of Moslem leaders is Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah. He has only 400,000 subjects, but Trans-Jordan is rich in oil, so Abdullah does a lot of business with the British, always good people to have on your side.

Another is Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia's 6,000,000. Oil again. And King Farouk and his 19,000,000 in Egypt, not long independent of Britain.

They each have a lever—minerals, geographic situation and the like—to pry concessions out of bigger powers. The Arab League itself—Syria, Trans-Jordan, Egypt, Yemen, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Iraq—has been one of the loudest voices in world affairs of late.

What this Islamic resurgence means is still only a guess. So far only the Jews of Palestine have felt the prophet's sword, and they gave better than they got. However, it is definitely a new flareup of a once mighty flame.

★

WHEN the Moors overran North Africa, part of Europe, not to mention southern Asia, in the century following Mohammed's death 1,300 years ago they converted to "the faith" with a ruthlessness unequaled even by the cruel Spanish Inquisition.

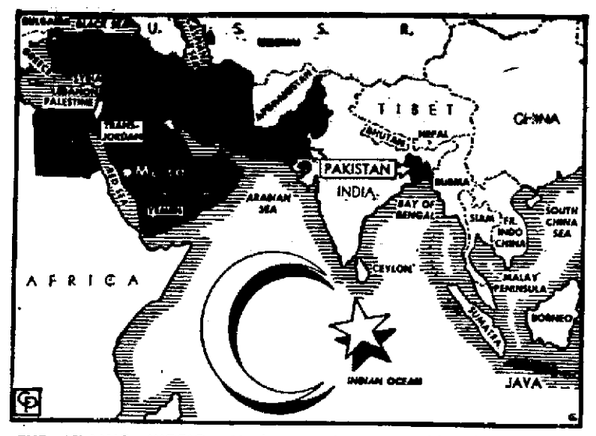
Then Islam spread no more. Its followers finally fell under Christian domination. Now the Christian world—the democracies, that is—is being subtly influenced by the Mohammedan.

The mountain went to Mohammed in India, in the Middle East, in Egypt. It is going to him in Indonesia, with Java's 48,000,000 mostly "faithful."

Actually Mohammedanism is not as far from Christianity as you might think. Moslems believe God created the world in six days, revealed Himself to man through prophets: Moses, Jesus, and Mohammed.

Besides praying five times a day, certain fasting is required. However, here is the catch, taken from the Koran, Mohammedan Bible: If a man is able to fast and does not, "he may redeem it by feeding a poor man."

Pretty handy if you are rich. However, for a lot of people it would not make up for abstaining from alcoholic beverages, another Islamic law. Then there is the plural wives angle. That's a lot of other stories.



THE ISLAMIC WORLD — Moslem nations are blocked in here.

TOWARD MECCA—In prayer, these Moslems kneel, facing holy city.

To Sponsor Group

BUCYRUS — The Keystone class of First Methodist church here will sponsor a young adult group in the church, officers announced last week. A social afternoon will be held Sunday, March 27, when the new group will be organized. The class also voted to assist a new Youth Fellowship group being organized.

Lake Season Opens

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Gulf Oil corporation tanker, Paratex, headed back into Cleveland today from Toledo with its second cargo of the year. The Paratex was the first commercial ship to dock here in the 1949 commercial season.

Arriving Saturday with 20,000 barrels of gasoline, the vessel returned to Toledo yesterday for another load.

Launch Move to Restore Ohio Nominating Conventions

Senators Pushing For Change

Gov. Cox Sparks Primary Shift

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP)— Another attempt to revive state nominating conventions gets under way in the senate elections committee tonight.

The conventions gave way to primary elections in 1913. Repeated efforts to restore them have failed. But the current movement seems to have gathered considerable momentum.

The hearing follows resumption of legislative sessions for a busy week. Other topics up for senatorial consideration include school appropriations, creation of a mental health department, licensing of practical nurses and bills to give the governor power to re-move sheriffs and to seek padlocking of gambling spots.

Representatives will consider bills on uniform and daylight saving time for Ohio, unemployment hours for women and minors and creation of a unified conservation department.

Elections committee chairman Charles L. Bartlett (D-Hamilton) released a letter from former Gov. James M. Cox backing nominating conventions. The publisher of Dayton, Springfield, Atlanta and Miami newspapers opposed the change 36 years ago and has sought to restore conventions since then.

The letter from Cox, one of Ohio's elder statesmen, will be one of those read at the committee hearing. It was sent to Sens. Fred R. Seibert (R-Auglaize) and Evan P. Ford (D-Franklin), sponsors of a proposal changing the state constitution to restore conventions.

A similar resolution was offered in the house by Reps. Robert R. Shaw (R - Franklin) and Harold F. Miller (D.-Lucas). Passage by the legislature would put the proposal on the November election ballot for final approval of voters. It does not require signing by Gov Frank J Lausche to get on the ballot.

The resolution calls for the first nominating convention in Columbus between Jan. 1 and 10, 1950. Delegates and alternates would be those elected for 1948 state conventions. The proposal also would permit county and city nominating conventions.

Sponsors said the plan is designated to keep party "hacks" off the ballot and assure competent candidates Convention selections would have the following designation after their names on primary ballots: "Recommended by state convention"

Anyone else seeking primary nomination could get on primary ballots by the petition process now available.

Another letter to be read is from Carl D. Friebolin, now a federal referee in Cleveland who as state senator sponsored the 1913 change. He is for restoring conventions.

Appearing insupport of the proposal will be former congressman Dudley White Norwalk and Sandusky publisher; Parker Lamoore, Scripps-Howard political analyst and formerly of Columbus, and Common Pleas Judge Ferd Behrens of Napoleon.

Revolutionary New Hearing Help . . .

A-120-P FOR NERVE IMPAIRMENT LOSSES

Here at last is an instrument specifically designed for the 9 out of 100 hard-of-hearing people who are described as "difficult nerve impairment cases." Their degree of loss is slight. Their difficulty in hearing with understanding is great They cannot tolerate, and therefore are often disturbed more than helped by the standard over all hearing aid that supplies them with increased power alone. They need the special performance of the A 120-P.

Children's Book Awards Go To Volumes On Snow, Stallion

Each year two children's book are selected for the most desirable awards in the field. The Caldecott award, named for Randolph Caldecott one of the greatest illustrators of children's books, is awarded to the best picture book written during this year. The 1948 award has just been given to THE BIG SNOW, by Berta and Elmer Hader. Reviwed a few weeks ago, this book shows the storm from the preparations the animals make for it through the first flake to the end when the ground is completely white

The Newbery award is named for John Newbery, the first person to publish and sell books for children, and is awarded to the most outstanding book of the year. The 1948 award has gone to Marguerite Henry for KING OF THE WIND, the tale of an Arabian stallion who was sent to the King of France as a gift

ALL IN A DAY and TIME TO PLAY are two new books for the youngest readers. Both are supplementary readers in the Betts series, have full color illustrations, and provide easy reading stories about everyday things.

Children in the middle grades study and read about the South Sea islands and the people who inhabit them. It is a way of life that is strange to us, a way of life that is built around the sea, where children swim as naturally as we walk, where fishing is the main occupation and the first fishing trip is a big date in a boy's life. The library has a new book with a name that's fun to say, TERI TARO OF BORA BORA. It is written by William Stone and tells of a short part of Teri Taro's life, including a visit to a big turtle, a dangerous fishing trip, adventures with a man eating shark and a nightly visit to the place of the ghosts.

MY POETRY BOOK by Grace Huffard is a delightful collection of old and new poems.

C J Maginley has written another book with ideas and suggestions for making things. This one is TOYMAKER'S BOOK. In it there are plans and diagrams and directions for transportation and construction toys, such as tanks cars, dump trucks and ferry boats.; for circus toys, such as merry-go-rounds, mechanical toys and doll furniture Tools and materials needed are simple and inexpensive, directions easy to follow.

471,000 Idled In Coal Strike

69,000 Others Out of Work

dustry. Eleven railroads furloughed 57, 425 workers.

Steel industries will not be hit immediately. They have large supplies of coal above ground. The national coal stock pile totals an estimated 70,000,000 (M) tons. It's good for about 45 days.

As the work stoppage went into effect only maintenance men They'll keep pumping water out of the pits, doing the routine work necessary to keep coal mines operating.

President Lewis has emphasized the fortnight holiday isn't a strike He says, too, it won't cause physical distress. Lewis points out he's allowing miners west of the Mississippi to work "to avoid public hardship in areas where climatic conditions have recently been unfavorable."

MINERS HIT

While there's plenty of coal in the east to fend out any wintry blasts which remain, the work stoppage will be hard on the pocketbooks of the miners. The UMW has a standing policy of not paying strike benefits.

With this in mind, some UMW leaders say they're going after unemployment compensation benefits from states. It's a big question whether the states will pay off. Traditionally, they haven't.

U.S. Watches Red Actions In Formosa

Island's Key To Defenses

TOKYO — (AP) — Reported Chinese communist infiltration into Formosa is being watched closely by U. S. military leaders.

That craggy island north of the Philippines is a major potential weakness in the United States western Pacific defense line.

In the hands of an enemy equipped with air power Formosa could be used to cut vital American shipping lines. It could springboard heavy assaults on nearby Okinawa, the keystone of advance American bases.

Well informed circles in Tokyo say communist infiltration of the island has already begun. Red agents have joined the rush of Chinese from the mainland who have transformed the island's main centers into boom towns. The nationalist government had counted on Formosa as a possible place of final refuge.

American authorities say communist influence is negligible at the moment. But they leave no doubt of their interest in assuring that Formosa remains in friendly hands regardless of developments on the Chinese mainland.

The island is a natural for aerial threats against the Philippines and Japan. Japan used it as a springboard for the first assault on the Philippines. And throughout most of the war Formosa'a airfields dealt blows to allied forces.

Okinawa, 400 miles northwest of Formosa, is America's main point within range of Siberian industrial areas. Enemy attacks from Formosa or south China could make Okinawa a hot spot.

Lying athwart the sealanes to southwest Asia, Formosa would become more important if the communist tide turned that way.

Strategists here say if that happens it will be proof that the Chinese communists are following the Kremlin party line.

American interest in Formosa is heightened by the delicate political situation there. Associated Press photographer Charles Gorry, who just returned from there, said virtually every Formosan he met told him the islanders wished the United States would take over.

"If they don't, send the Japanese back," the islanders told Gorry, "anything is better than the Chinese."

The Japanese held Formosa for 50 years—from 1895 until the end of the Pacific war. Then it was returned to China, which had ceded it to Japan after the Sino-Japanese war.

Perhaps only the Koreans exceeded the Formosans in their expressed hatred for the Japanese at the close of the Pacific war. They changed quickly when Chinese administrators took over the island and, the Formosans said, looted it ruthlessly.

This sort of situation has proved fertile for communists, especially in Asia. If the Chinese nationalist government eventually settles in Formosa, it may find itself in a hot box. U. S. authorities frankly are concerned about that, too.

Nearly every high ranking American military authority visiting the Orient now includes Formosa in his itinerary. They see waterfronts piling high with supplies from nationalist China. Speculation is wild and so is the black market.

This, say many sources, is an inauspicious start for the reconstruction of an island stronghold that may become increasingly important to American security in the western Pacific.

'Bandits' Hit Train, Escape Punishment

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The signal switched suddenly. Engineer John Sesick slammed on the brakes and halted his train.

A fusillade of shots rang out. Sesick jerked open the car door and looked into the smoking barrels of three guns. Sesick jumped to the roadbed.

The three desperadoes who had fired the shots fled, stuffing their pistols into their holsters.

Police ran down the culprits a half-hour later, but they didn't arrest them.

You see, the "desperadoes" all are 11 years old and the "weapons" they were firing were cap pistols.

$800 Fire Hits Galion Residence

GALION — Damage to the home of H. H. Hoover and family at 324 South street, was estimated at more than $800., from a fire Friday that burned out the kitchen and damaged a large section of the roof.

Firemen were handicapped in fighting the blaze because it worked its way under a shingle and tarpaper covered roof. Most of the furniture was removed from the home, but smoke and water damaged the rooms in addition to the fire.

The Hoover children discovered the fire when they saw smoke pouring from the eaves of the home.

Appleseed Talent Contest Winners Named By Principal

By JANET NEAL and JANISE SMITH

Winners of the amateur contest sponsored by the Johnny Appleseed student council were announced by G. W. Harmony, principal.

They are: First prize, Ruth Plaut, who played a piano solo; second prize to LaMarr Green, who twirled a baton, and third prize to Reba McFadden who sang George Gershwin's "Summertime."

Honorable mention awards went to the following students: Neil Roller, Nancy Wolf, Edith York, Diane Funston, and a ninth boys' ensemble, Dave Schwein, Ronnie Ackerman, Arlen Bonecutter, Jack Weeks, John Hill, Paul Kindinger, Eldon Remy and John Robbins.

At an assembly last week Mrs. Shummaker, a deep sea diver, gave an informative talk concerning her experiences. She described one of her most exciting adventures with a tiger shark, and pointed out the necessity of following closely every safety rule for deep sea diving. She also told about the various habits of different kinds of fish, and showed a collection of sponges and other sea animals.

"The Dance of the Lepricons" is the name decided upon for the ninth grade dance to be held March 18. Committee chairmen are: tickets, Fred Zahn; decorations, John Auer; refreshments, Tom Goodhart; cloakroom, Cynthia Ackerman; publicity, Pat Wright.

The Music Makers, Appleseed's dance band, will play for the dance. They also played for a dance held in the gym as noon entertainment last Friday.

The Appleseed Press was distributed to pupils Friday.

Wednesday, groups from the seventh and ninth grade home economics classes saw a moving picture, "Principles of Cooking."

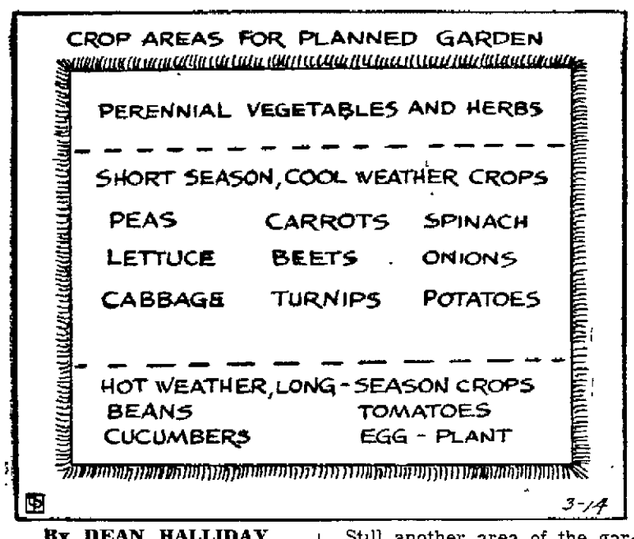
Plant Your Garden On Paper

Reg U S Patent Office



By DEAN HALLIDAY

A home vegetable garden "planted" on paper first will be more productive than an unplanned one, despite the fact that some folk think more vegetables come from crooked rows because they are longer.

When you garden according to a planting plan every inch of the vegetable area is kept producing from the earliest possible date in spring until the killing frosts of fall come.

A method of planning and laying out a normal size family garden according to crop areas is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. A family of five will need 1,000 feet of row of green, leafy, or yellow vegetables, 800 feet of row of Irish potatoes, 600 feet of row of tomatoes, and 1,750 feet of row of all other vegetables.

Perennial vegetables such as asparagus, rhubarb, berries and herbs should be confined to one side of the garden, or in a separate plot where they will not interfere with plowing and fitting the remaining areas of the garden.

One section of the garden should be devoted to the short-season, quick growing vegetables, as listed in the Garden-Graph or according to the gardener's desires. After such early crops are harvested a second planting of fall crops can be grown in the same area.

Still another area of the garden should be reserved for the full-season crops which will occupy the land most of the growing season. Beans should be planted at intervals of two weeks, so as to provide successive maturity periods.

How Jay Tompkins of Milwaukee, Wisconsin gave up a snug job to be on his own

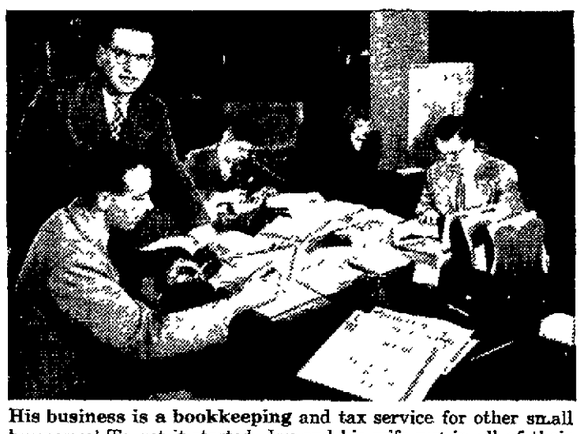
AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP

As they go, so goes the nation!

A business of his own! This was the ambition Jay and Kay Tompkins shared from the time their campus romance began. But when they were married in 1938 they lacked the money to start one—and later they found themselves in another dilemma! For after nine years of building up a backlog to start his own firm, Jay saw that the new venture would earn far less than his well-paying salesman's job.

With a growing family and an uncertain world, could Jay and Kay risk a new business? Could they live on income cut by half? They'd planned and saved so long! What if they managed their money carefully, went without "extras" for a while . . . and took the big step?

"We dreamed together, planned together," Jay and Kay recall, "for the day Jay could go to work for himself."



His business is a bookkeeping and tax service for other small businesses! To get it started, Jay and his wife put in all of their savings, borrowed $1000 on their life insurance. At first Kay helped out at the office, too. "Without her help we would have been lost," Jay says. He employs only veterans.

School bus was a civic project of Jay's. Active in community affairs, though not so much as he'd like, he helped arrange service. Now daughters Ann, 7, and Sally, 4, are able to ride to school in safety!

For golf and other recreation Jay and Kay spend only $15 a month, even now that the business is on its feet. The Tompkinses keep a "family ledger," know where their money goes. Home costs $61.57 a month; life insurance comes to $78.44; food, $94.

Today, Jay and Kay are finding their sacrifices well worth while. By such things as holding neighborhood "swap parties" for children's outgrown clothes, Kay is saving money for a much-wanted freezer, and a clothes-dryer.

To keep the independence they've won, Jay and his life insurance agent figured out what it would cost the family to live if Jay died, and arranged life insurance program accordingly. "I'm proud of Jay," his wife says, "he expects to get no more from the world than he puts in."

Daughters of a Senator? Could be, if Jay's dream of doing more in public service comes true! It's part of his family's tradition. His great-great-grandfather was U. S. vice-president under Monroe.

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Tompkinses, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Cost of Clear Fork Project Mounts

GRADUAL revelation that Mansfield's Clear Fork water supply project is to cost well over twice the amount originally estimated has become a matter of considerable public discussion—coupled with some adverse criticism.

While rising labor and material costs, to which Mayor Vaughn attributes the greatly increased total, are accepted as an inescapable part of this inflationary period, there is inclination to feel that the element of capable business management has been lacking in handling various phases of the project, with resultant waste of money.

While from $800,000 to $1,000,000 was first presented as probable cost of the project, the present total is placed at $2,450,000, and if this may be regarded as a specimen of what may be expected hereafter in the expenditure of public funds it would be well to take the more than doubled costs into account in advance—and also to make sure that such vast sums of money are capably and economically expended.

Gambling Profits Provide For Bribes

WHILE California's investigation of the nation-wide slot machine racket may seem far removed from the Ohio scene, it is noteworthy that the estimated $2,000,000,000 annual "take" of this particular form of gambling applies to the entire country, and that the millions of dollars paid out annually to bribe and corrupt public officials presumably extends into this state as well as others.

The report by the California Commission on Organized Crime follows a comprehensive investigation and reveals underworld corruption extending all the way from New York to the west coast.

These disclosures fit in nicely with the efforts now being made by Governor Lausche to rid Ohio of what he calls "notorious, habitual, commercial-sized gambling institutions" and denounces as "a multi-million dollar a year racket."

Two bills on this subject are before the Ohio legislature: one to empower the governor to remove sheriffs who fail to stop open gambling in their counties—as he now has authority to remove delinquent mayors—and the other to authorize the county prosecutor to padlock habitual gambling establishments.

Several so-called "clubs" are mentioned specifically in the governor's statement as exceptionally notorious spots, but recent revelations in Alliance—and knowledge of conditions in Mansfield—indicate that official tie-up with promoters of commercialized gambling of various sorts extends into many tolerant communities and becomes a matter for intervention by state authorities, rather than continuing to depend on the weakness or culpability of local elective or appointive officials.

Mansfield's experience early last year, when a gambling ban was in effect through February and March, by order of Chief of Police Schwab, sanctioned by Mayor Vaughn, gives an idea of how law enforcement can be jockeyed to serve the purposes of those concerned, and no explanation has yet been given as to why the customary forms of illegal gambling were permitted to return to Mansfield after a two-months' effective shut-down.

Slave Labor Behind Iron Curtain

ACCORDING to testimony by numerous persons claiming to be eye-witnesses, between 8,000,000 and 20,000,000 persons are victims of a slave-labor system in Russia. This testimony was given before an unofficial commission meeting in New York. The commission is attempting to bring its findings to the attention of the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

It is charged that political prisoners are compelled to work without pay, and that children from the age of eleven up are assigned occupations in designated areas. Workers are not permitted to move or to change their occupation. According to Kyril Alexeev, a metallurgical engineer, strikes in ordinary industrial establishments are broken by prison-labor and by machine-gunning strikers. One witness declared that horses receive more consideration than do human workers.

These charges should have the careful consideration of the United Nations agency which is concerned with social and economic matters. Wide publicity should be given to the council's findings. If human beings are held in slavery in any country in the world, it is everybody's business.

Study of Languages Being Neglected

WHAT is happening to language study in American schools? Many years ago Greek disappeared from the course. Latin has gone from all but a few. French and German are not widely taught. Even at that, it is a surprise to read the gloomy prediction of Norris E. Orchard, a teacher of Windsor, Conn., addressing a teachers' convention. He thinks that English is going next.

His belief came from a survey of 375 graduates of leading secondary schools who at school were honor students in English, and were doing college or graduate work. Out of those polled 77 per cent had no intention of carrying on their study of English literature. They were more interested in the new scientific developments, and in government and the social sciences. English struck them as being unimportant. This, says Mr. Orchard, is what Latin students thought in the years near 1920, and where is the study of Latin now?

English and American literature are often presented uninvitingly in the schools. Great masterpieces have been so taught as to repel their readers. What many students seem to dislike most, however, is English composition. Rather than labor at careful and accurate writing, they would rather write as they happened first to learn. That is why there is so much illiterate writing today.

It would be tragic if all literature ceased to be taught in the schools. For most children this is about their only chance for acquaintance with it. Education loses much of its value if it tries to be purely practical, with no emphasis on beauty.

With medical check-ups and operations for all, guaranteed under socialized medicine, Bill Vaughn, of the Kansas City Star, sees this as "the hypochondriac's bill of rights."

Not that it matters, but it would be interesting to learn what the Russians think of filibusters and filibusterers.

There are plenty of interesting things going on in this world, but many people fail to see them.

Testing Out the New Diving Equipment.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Taxation Has Limits, Economists Say

ONE of the many strange sayings attributed to the late Justice Holmes by his voluble admirers is: "I like to pay taxes." If, as the nation files its returns this March anyone is saying that, he, too, must be hidden in the Supreme Court. Certainly, no one is saying any such thing publicly. People are saying this thing is beginning to hurt and hurt badly.

For in this year of our Lord and in the reign of Truman, the American taxpayer is breaking many records in giving, since to the great federal "take" can be added new and unprecedented state and local tax increases.

It may be idle to speculate on how much higher our government may want to raise taxes. Bureaucracy will never lose its appetite for money, and some sectors of the public will never stop voting for new benefits. But it is not idle to speculate on how much higher our tax rates can rise before a law of diminishing returns sets in. We may be in that region right now.

It is a well established economic fact, proved in many countries abroad, that a point can be reached in a non-totalitarian economy where increases in two rates results in decreases in tax collections.

Tax evasion, legal and illegal, becomes a fine art and the collective ingenuity of the taxpayers circumvents the zeal of the tax collectors.

Good European economists have calculated that the point of diminishing returns is reached shortly after the tax returns exceed 25 per cent of the total national income. In wartime the ratio can be higher, if the emergency is truly felt by the people.

In 1945 Fred Vinson, then secretary of the treasury, ventured the opinion that 25 per cent of the national income was all that could be exacted in taxes.

* * *

Still Going Up.

THE TOTAL planned expenditures of our governments—federal, state and local—for the next fiscal year amount to something like $65 billion, which is almost one-third of our current national income.

If the President has his way, the federal bill will be from 2 to 4 per cent higher, and if some of the pending pieces of welfare legislation pass Congress, the increase next year will be still higher.

Among the nations of Europe, England seems to have established the highest degree of tax loyalty. From time to time in the London Times there have appeared over the years acknowledgments from the chancellor of the exchequer of the receipt of "conscience money," meaning sums sent in by people who first cheated John Bull and then found their slumbers disturbed because of their betrayal of their fellow citizens.

No such insomnia seems to disturb the French, where evasion has been a fine art for centuries and in some regions and times has reached 100 per cent.

In the Scandinavian countries, where everybody knows everybody's business, it is not easy to evade taxes. In Switzerland thrift seems to have overwhelmed curiosity. In Zurich the city published a large book purporting to show the tax paid by every citizen, in the hope of discouraging tax evasion. A friend of mine saw this book displayed in a store with a poster saying, "The Fairy Stories of Zurich."

Perhaps the American people have maintained their morality better than those of other nations. There are American Pharisees who have been saying this for generations. But we shall see how this reputation holds up under the burdens to come.

Washington Calling

Split On Public Power

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE Hoover Commission has released one after another of its monumental reports analyzing the departments that make up the colossus of the federal government. In these thousands upon thousands of words is a chart for reshaping the government along more efficient and economical lines.

But one report has been back thus far. It is so charged with controversy that it has torn the commission apart. And what is more, its release may carry the controversy into Congress and thereby perhap undermine much of the great potential good inherent in the Hoover commission reports.

The report that has stirred so much feeling deals with revolving funds and business enterprises of the government. The section in the report that is stirring such sharp differences concerns the federal development of public power.

In this and a following column I want to discuss the Hoover Commission's stand in relation to the future of public power. As the campaign of last fall proved, this whole question of the development of great natural resources is one in which the people have the keenest interest.

The commission originally hired the firm of Haskins and Sells to prepare a task force report on public corporations and particularly on public power. Haskins and Sells is a highly respected firm of public accountants auditing some of the largest private utility firms in the country.

Their point of view is naturally that of private utility operation. The recommendations contained in their task force report were for the most part directly opposed to the tenets of public power development as represented in TVA and such great Western dams as Bonneville and Grand Coulee.

Their report recommended that "wherever feasible power produced at government-owned hydroelectric projects be sold at the bus bar." This would mean that power produced by the government at very low cost would be turned over at the dam for transmission and sale by private utilities.

* * *

Same Old Controversy.

ALONG with this went a recommendation that "the rates for the sale of electric energy generated at government-owned hydroelectric projects be not considered as a 'yardstick' for comparison with the rates charged by private industry."

The "yardstick" approach has been back of TVA and the other big dams, the theory being that if the government could produce low-cost power, then the private utilities would have to follow along and reduce their rates.

The Haskins and Sells report also proposed "that consideration be given to abolishing the reclamation fund. The fund, originating out of the sale of public lands, is one of the sources of money for irrigation projects constructed by the bureau of reclamation.

Both in the Haskins and Sells report and in another task force report limited to water resources projects, prepared by A. B. Roberts, a Cleveland, Ohio, consulting engineer, there are thinly disguised attacks on the public power concept.

It is proposed that TVA be forbidden to build any steam power plants which is directly contrary to the vote in the House the other day approving construction of the new Johnsonville steam plant.

Chairman Hoover proposed that many of these recommendations be contained in the commission's final report. This brought immediate protests from those who insisted that up to this point commission recommendations had carefully avoided political controversy.

After a long and bitter argument a tentative compromise was agreed to. The commissioners are to be free to make their own individual recommendations which may or may not ignore the task force reports.

While there may be last-minutes shifts in this line-up, the controversy is to be deeply regretted. Here was an opportunity to give the public a calm, unprejudiced survey of public power. That opportunity appears to have been lost.

Showdown Between Truman and Lewis

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis recently won some votes in favor of keeping one of the Taft-Hartley provisions which labor dislikes most—the right of injunction to halt strikes against the public interests.

The National Association of Manufacturers backed by George Sokolsky and a battery of propagandists couldn't have been half as effective as John L. Lewis. For Lewis's lieutenant, John Owens, hinted before a Senate committee that the miners would strike if the Senate confirmed Dr. James Boyd as director of the bureau of mines.

Several senators who have been on the fence regarding injunctions now believe that injunctions may be the only way to deal with a labor leader who threatens a strike if Congress exercises its constitutional right to confirm a presidential appointment.

Inside fact is that previously John L. Lewis used to dominate the bureau of mines. He had a brother-in-law working there and also helped pick the bureau's director, Dr. R. R. Sayers. Eventually it developed that Lewis knew as much about what was going on inside the bureau as its top boss, Secretary of the Interior Krug.

Shortly after Krug discovered this, Sayers stepped out to take a job with the United Mine Workers while Krug appointed Dr. Boyd, then dean of the Colorado School of Mines, to take his place. Lewis has held up Boyd's appointment ever since, chiefly through GOP Senator Eugene Millikin of Colorado.

Now Truman has called for a showdown between himself and Lewis as to which controls Senate confirmations.

Dems Overworked Bloom

ONE thing that contributed to the death of much-loved Congressman Sol Bloom was overwork. And his work load was increased by the fact that many Democratic members of the House foreign affairs committee brazenly loafed on the job, leaving most of the work to Sol and the Republicans.

While the 11 Republican members of the committee usually are present, sometimes as few as three Democrats have turned up. This once caused conscientous Congressman John Kee of West Virginia to remark, "Maybe what we need is a police force to get our colleagues to attend meetings."

So far statesmanlike Congressman Charles Eaton of New Jersey, leader of the Republicans, hasn't taken advantage of this. But he could easily turn the tables on the Democrats and put the Republicans in the position of running American foreign policy.

As a result the first act of new Democratic Chairman John Kee, when he took over following Sol Bloom's death, was to warn Democratic congressmen it was time for them to quit playing hookey.

Servant of Brotherhood

WHEN Forrest Warren, now on the San Diego Journal, was a reporter on the Atchison (Kas.) Globe, he lost his wife under the wheels of a train. Perhaps that tragedy had something to do with causing Warren to spend much of his time since then listening to the sorrows of others and doing something about them.

At any rate, Warren has become a tireless worker for his fellow men. He has organized a revolving wheel-chair service in which there are more than 600 wheel chairs and many walkers for polio victims.

He originated the San Diego shoe fund, collecting $40,000 and more than 100,000 pairs of shoes that were repaired and given to needy children.

At Christmas time Warren conducts a Santa-helper program by which 4,000 men, women and children are cheered with holiday presents. He has collected money to buy books projected on the ceiling via films so that flat-on-the-back patients may read pages on the ceiling above their beds.

Warren, now 71 years old, does all this in addition to his regular work on the San Diego Journal. He is a real Servant of Brotherhood.

Wage-Hour Concessions

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — What happened in the House education and labor committee on the expanded wage-hour bill sought by the administration offers a good case history of the situation of President Truman and his program in the 81st Congress, and it appears more encouraging than some recent pessimistic analyses would indicate.

This measure provides a good test generally for economic-social reform measures on the Truman program, for its provisions for increasing the number of workers benefitted and raising the rate from 40 cents an hour to a flat 75 cents, which the committee approved, are highly controversial and were vigorously challenged by a great variety of businesses affected.

Once again, in this instance, there appeared the old familiar coalition of Republicans which for nearly 10 years has played such havoc with New Deal proposals, first when offered by the late President Roosevelt, and more recently by President Truman.

But this time the coalition that had been so successful in the education and labor committee could not pull off the trick.

Three southern Democrats joined with the nine Republicans on the committee. But they were outvoted, though narrowly, by 13 Democrats who were able to put over a bill that achieved most of the administration objectives.

Some few concessions were necessary. It was quite a substantial victory, however, because it appeared a few days ago that the administration might get only a token measure limited largely to a flat increase in the rate from 40 to 65 cents an hour without extending coverage to additional workers.

* * *

Active Campaigner.

MOST significant was the fact that the margin of victory for the administration was furnished by a southern Democrat who refused to go along with his three southern colleagues in the coalition with Republicans in the fashion that almost has become traditional.

This was Rep. Hugo S. Simms (D., S. C.), who symbolizes the newer generation in the South, which reflects the gradually increasing progressivism in that section, as well as the viewpoint of the generation that fought the last war. Rep. Simms who is 27 years of age, had a notable war record as a paratrooper with the 101st airborne division in Europe, winning several decorations. Enlisting as a private, he rose to captain.

After the war he engaged in newspaper work with his father at Orangeburg, S. C., for a time. He was elected to the state legislature and went to law school at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, the capital, while serving as a legislator.

In his campaign for the House, in which he defeated the conservative incumbent, Rep. John J. Riley, he began months ahead of time and conducted almost a house-to-house canvass of his district, the Second district in middle South Carolina, the largest and most populous in the state. It is about half industrial and half rural.

Holding the balance of power in the comittee, he won a couple of concessions from the administration leadership on the committee — exemption of agricultural workers from the measure and the right to offer an amendment on the floor for a graduated increase to 75 cents in two years, beginning with 65 cents at the outset.

The wage-hour bill case demonstrates also how careful and earnest legislative spade work, with compromises here and there, can help on such controversial issues.

Instrumental in this successful coup was another Democrat who unseated a Republican last November, Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey (W. VA.), not a youngster like Mr. Simms, for he is 62. He was influential in working out the substitute compromise bill which the 13 Democratic members of the committee agreed to support unitedly at a caucus called the night before by the chairman, Rep. Lesinski (D., Mich.)

Timely Editorial

Pyramids and the Law.

Laudable though its intent may be, the bill introduced into the Ohio General Assembly by Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, which would make participation in the pyramid club craze a misdemeanor, strikes us as being singularly futile.

The bill can't possibly be approved and put into operation immediately. Weeks, more probably months, would be required to do that. By that time, virtually every Ohioan who is foolish enough to become involved in the latest get-rich-quick scheme will already have been taken for his $2 and the pyramid club craze will have collapsed of its own weight.

Laws are of relatively little use in dealing with such impossible schemes, anyhow. —Toledo Blade.

Farmer's Diary

A Houseful of Boys

By CALVIN A. BYERS

TO LIVE with a houseful of growing boys is a struggle at any season, but doubly hectic in winter or the muddy time of March. Hardly a day but brings new complications.

Yesterday came the bequest of a great bag of marbles! A high school friend sent it home to our smaller fry by the older brother. It must have weighed 10 pounds—the whole boyhood winnings of a sharpshooter! Agates, puries, crockies—every color combination, every size to delight boyish eyes!

Eagerly they marked a ring on the livingroom linoleum with a piece of soap. Then what a chattering, scrambling bounding, rolling, maneuvering! The radio blared "Don't be half-safe".

Nice advice, if you can observe it. The safest place for me seemed to be the kitchen, so I went thither and hid behind my paper, to help my wife get supper.

The din increased. The dog began to bark. Somebody was at the door. I opened it, to greet a fruit tree salesman. He took in the situation and produced a kaleidoscope and a lot of ties, which kept the marbles tolerably quiet while he and I discussed various phases of horticulture. Funny how these business men prepare for everything! By the time he had gone, supper was ready.

We had baked beans, escalloped tomatoes, buttered parsnips and apple pie. One boy started to relate that "Pretty Polly provided plenty of perfect prune pudding promptly." The littlest brother revived the old one about "rubber baby-buggy bumpers" and giggles threatened to upset the suppertable! One pulled out his kerchief and spilled a bedraggled valentine with it. "Who sent you that one? How come you've kept it so long? Let's see it.".

They passed it around. It was a picture of a sad-eyed puppy with the suggestion in big letters "FLEA with me?"

Supper over, the living room became a barber shop. The oldest brother borrowed his mother's apron and stuck the hand-power clippers into the pocket, borrowed pocked combs until he found one that pleased him, and began to snap the scissors together with professional gusto.

A stool upon a straight chair made a "barber's chair" high enough to work with easily. "Straight Arrow," via radio, provided entertainment. The first "butch" was not a botch, in spite of the tyro's statement to the contrary.

Since our boys do not look alike, but every head is an individual problem, the volunteer barber may get considerable experience in hair styling. Their mother, who up until now, has done the job as a labor of love, agreed enviously (?) that all three looked much better than she had ever seen them.

Galion Calls Power Talk For Tonight

Proposed Council Ordinance Shapes

GALION — A meeting is planned tonight, Mayor H. H. Hartmann said, between members of city council, the board of control and N. J. Roberts of Cleveland, industrial engineer of the Ohio Public Service company.

It will be a private meeting, the mayor said, to discuss a proposed ordinance to city council to set up a program under which the city could purchase electric power from the OPS.

Regular council meeting is slated for Tuesday night, at which time it is expected the ordinance will be ready for presentation.

Meanwhile an injunction suit against the city of Galion and the Ohio Public Service company went back into court today, to prevent provisions of a franchise ordinance from taking effect. The injunction suit was filed by City Solicitor George H. Davies.

Judge C. U. Ahl of Crawford county Common Pleas court heard the case Feb. 10 and recessed hearings for an indefinite time in the hope a satisfactory compromise to purchase power could be reached, and to give opposing attorneys an opportunity to file briefs.

$117 Added To Heart Fund

The Richland County Heart association's drive got a final boost Saturday of $117.65 from the recreation festival at the Richland Recreation center.

Proceeds from the dance and auction netted $107.65 and the Miller's High Life Bowling team from Milwaukee donated an additional $10.

Total for the campaign still is $1,000 short of the Richland county goal of $1,500, but many of the red hearts in Mansfield are yet to be collected.

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Mrs. Aldan Dwan, wife of the film director and once a Ziegfeld Follies' girl, died last night.

Sentenced To Workhouse

John Fenton, Akron, today was sentenced to six months in the Columbus workhouse by Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer for non-support of his former wife, Viola, and their three children.

The sentence will be suspended if Fenton can provide the $500 he owes to his former wife for support within five days, the court said.

Two Firms Top Quotas

Red Cross campaign funds jumped to $21,674 today as two Mansfield industrial firms reported reaching their quotas in the drive for $48,835.

The Mansfield Tire and Rubber company went "over the top," with a quota of $2,500. The sum of $2,621.25 was reported at headquarters by company officials, the largest yet turned in by any Mansfield industrial firms.

The North American Knitting Mills made its quota of $140, reporting $140.50.

At the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company the campaign was under the supervision of E. B. Davis, chief statistician, and 100 company employes took part in making the collections.

Added to the growing list of 100-per cent group were 22 additional ones reported at headquarters. These included: Harold Boals, Visiting Nurses' association, Snyder and Schneider barber shop, Beam and Beam, attorneys, R. A. Kern Ciar company, Richland Blue Print, Drs. A. L. Engwiler and Christine Fernyak, Honegger-Hanley Mills, Painters' Inc., Schroer company, Mansfield Rapid Transit, Sowash Brothers, Swan Cleaners, Borden's Dairy, Wolfe Insurance company, Wilging Shop, Stevens and Chew, Voegele, Hutchison and Moore, attorneys, Clark Custer's office, Mansfield Upholstering company, Furniture Repair Service and Gulf Refining company.

20 'Goodfellows' Add $245 To Friendly House Fund

Twenty checks, ranging from $5 to $100, rolled in yesterday as Mansfielders gave a hearty response to the benefit basketball show for the Friendly House to be staged in Senior high gym Wednesday night.

Members of the "Goodfellows club" sponsoring the game, said the checks boosted the receipts $245. However, 450 more "good fellows" are needed in the club by Wednesday night. The game, featuring the Cleveland Browns' professional team versus the Mansfield All-Stars, is being played to put equipment in the new Friendly House gymnasium.

Immediately before the main tilt, a "battle royale" boxing show by Friendly House youngsters will be held.

The "goodfellows" club is still open for membership. Anyone wishing to join can send a check to Elmer Hedeen, co-chairman of the club, in care of the Mansfield Metal Vault company. Seats are still available and may be purchased at Tawse's, City News or Mayer drug store. Kiwanic or Mayor drug store. Kiwanis tickets.

Approximately 200 reserved seats on the first floor and at the balcony rail are still available. These seats are $2. General admission seats at $1 each and located in the balcony, may be purchased at the downtown ticket sales locations or at the door the night of the game.

Flames Damage Lily Street Home

Fire starting from a defective chimney at the home of Elder Brown, 587 Lily street, caused slight damage to the roof shortly after 11 a. m. Sunday.

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered the alarm at 11:23 a. m.

At 9:56 p. m. Sunday, Central station sent one pumper to 657 West Fourth street were the battery cable had shorted in a car owned by Harry Kolhins, Mifflin. Firemen said there was no damage.

New Look Fading, Slim Silhouette Now Reappearing

The new look seems to be through and the slim silhouette appears to be on the way back, according to fall fashion trends noticed in the second annual fashion fair at New York.

Now more than ever women are trying frantically to take off the extra bulges.

In recent months many weight-reducing preparations have appeared on the market, some of them based on "the diet and vitamin plan," which means cut down on the intake of food and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress.

A survey among drug stores in Ohio shows that one preparation, Rennel, which is the outstanding seller in the reducing field, is not based on this vitamin plan.

Any Ohio druggist can supply you with 4 ounces of Rennel. Just add this to 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take according to directions. No starvation diet.

The makers of Rennel guarantee to refund your money if the very first bottle does not show you the simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Four ounces of Rennel costs little and hundreds of Ohio women have highly endorsed it. —Adv.

PROFIT FOR US

IS

Profit for you!

We can make a profit only by paying out less than we take in. Profit is our incentive.

We need profit to build plants that bring you more and better petroleum products at a fair price. Value is your incentive.

Don't you see that by working for ourselves we are really working for you?

Now you could, by legislation, take our profits away. Then we would have no incentive for cutting the cost of delivery from the refinery to the neighborhood gas station; to study new ways of making better gasoline cheaper, to wipe your windshield when you come in, to pay for discovering and developing new crude oil resources your grandchildren want. When we earn a dollar we put it to work—for you and for ourselves.

Is there anything wrong with this "system" upon which America was built?

About Women

MISS PAULINE AUXTER TO BE WED TO MR. BLOMSTROM

Employes of United Air Lines to Exchange Vows In Los Angeles on May 7.

MAY 7 HAS BEEN CHOSEN as the wedding date of Miss Pauline Auxter, former Mansfielder, and Howard R. Blomstrom. The couple will exchange nuptial vows in the Chapman Park Auditory, Los Angeles, with Doctor Hill officiating for the semi-formal event. The wedding will take place at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Miss Auxter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Auxter, 205 West Park boulevard, is now residing in Los Angeles. Mr. Blomstrom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Blomstrom, Salt Lake City, Utah, is also a resident of Los Angeles.

Fourteen friends learned of the engagement and approaching marriage at an announcement party given by Miss Auxter's mother in the clubrooms of the Mansfield Leland hotel.

Spring flowers and tall white tapers centered the table for the dinner-bridge. During the meal the bride-elect's young nephew, Tommy Auxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Auxter, Rowland avenue, appeared dressed as cupid with a crown and white satin band. On the band was written in red letters, "Pauline and Howard, May 7."

When the scores were tallied for bridge, prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Osborn, Mrs. Edwin Sheets and Miss Sally Russell.

Miss Auxter, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, is also a graduate of Depew university where she became a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Blomstrom graduated from the University of Utah where he was affiliated with the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He served five years in the Army Air Corps, part of which was spent overseas in the Pacific theater.

They are both employes of the United Air Lines, Miss Auxter being a stewardess and Mr. Blomstrom a pilot.

New Officers Installed By Sorority

The new officers of Omega Tau Gamma sorority were installed Friday night in the YMCA clubrooms. Mrs. Dale Shafer was given the obligation for president with Mrs. Frank Mako, vice president; Mrs. Forest Pittenger, secretary; Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Antrican, sergeant at arms, receiving their pledge.

Plans were made for the founder's day dinner which was postponed from March 10 to March 15. The affair will be held at the Fairway. A covered dish dinner will be held March 31 in the clubrooms for rushees.

Mrs. R. W. Tranum, honorary member from Driver, Arkansas, was present.

The hostesses for the April 8 meeting will be Mrs. Joseph Wilhelm, Mrs. Robert Woodward, Mrs. Antrican and Mrs. Roy Bailey.

Members of Temple Emanuel Sisterhood will meet Tuesday at 1 o'clock for a luncheon and card party at the Temple, Cook road. Mrs. Jules Glattke and Mrs. Louis Bachrach will preside as hostesses.

Family Dinner Marks Anniversary

GALION — On the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary, Saturday, March 12, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Thomas were honored with a family dinner at their home by their two sons and daughter-in-law.

The dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., with Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Thomas and Richard Thomas entertaining. The two young grandchildren of the couple, Robert P., Jr., and Suzanne, also were present for the occasion.

Mrs. Thomas is the former Grace Dye, and she and Mr. Thomas have always lived in Galion.

Joint Meeting Held Sunday

The B'Nai B'rith lodge and auxiliary met at the B'Nai Jacob temple, Sunday for a regular meeting. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the brotherhood essay contest. Mrs. Albert Cousins made the awards.

Mrs. Charles Zelkowitz of Mt. Vernon was the guest speaker. She reviewed the book, "The Birth of Israel". Refreshments were served.

BOX SOCIAL

Rho chapter, Chi Sigma sorority, will have a box social April 1 at John Todd park pavilion. This is for all sorority members and their guests.

Looking Through . . .

The Fashion Spy Glass

News from New York fashion circles promise beautiful new pastel colors for your casual kid footwear. Pastel cotton dresses can now be matched with the same color shoe or a lovely contrast in another pastel shade.

In fact, we understand that the shoe industry, the handbag industry and the belt manufacturers are all joining hands this spring to bring us the exact shade of leather in all our accessories. We are certainly glad to hear that leather goods are going to be "color conscious" to such a great extent.

There is also going to be a lot of two-toning in our shoes. White kid footwear will have colored straps and heels and a shoe will not only be shown in one pastel shade, but in different tones of that shade.

For the tall gals and those of us who have become addicted to the comfort of flat heeled shoes, we can report that flat heels will go dancing this spring and summer in dressier styles than ever before. Famous manufacturers of sporty low heeled shoes are going all out to dress them up for us.

One novelty in fashions, that we may not see this year, but which may very well start a new era in fabrics, is "Lacelon" plastic. Hattie Carnegie has designed a hat in this new material which will be shown in a New York fashion show this week. It is a Vinyl-type plastic which has been spun into a cobwebby gauze. Stretched across a frame, it makes a washable delicate waterproof hat. A spokesman for the manufacturer of "Lacelon" says that the company spent nine years developing it and he believes that it will someday be made into dresses that will equal the finest of imported laces.

And here is a new note in handbags that we don't think will ever sweep the country but we'd like to mention it just for laughs. It is called the "orchid bag" and is designed for "women who pamper their orchids". It is a small pouch, globe or envelope shaped bag with a pocket on the outside. A vial with water and a non-slip rubber top fits into the pocket. Any flower, orchid to daisy, fits into the vial.

The bags come in suedes and leathers for daytime and gold and silver brocade or silk for evening wear. Designer Jan Norris did not list the price range, but hedged: "Any woman who can afford orchids can afford orchid bags."

Karbula-Dillon Nuptial Vows Solemnized at Catholic Church

COLONIAL IN STYLE was the lovely gown of slipper satin worn by Miss Ruth Karbula for her marriage to Paul E. Dillon February 26. The yoke of sheer marquisette was of a low square effect in both back and front. Across the front of the gown, satin was laid in folds giving the effect of a flat bow with a soft knot. The bodice was fitted very tight with a point in front. The very full skirt extended into a wide long train.

An extremely full fingertip veil of imported English silk illusion was attached to a waxed orange blossom headpiece.

Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and two beauty baskets of spring flowers. The scene at 9:30 a. m. in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church was lighted by tall tapers.

Miss Karbula, who resides at 150 Glessner avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karbula, R. D. 2 Lexington, and Mr. Dillon who resides at 134 Vennum avenue, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Dillon, 105 Sturges avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by a friend, Francis McAvoy, carried a bouquet of roses and carnations with a white orchid insert.

Mrs. Francis McAvoy, a friend of the couple, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a lovely moss green shade of taffeta. The yoke of her gown was also squared in both the back and front with a band of taffeta trimming it. The sleeves were short with turn back cuffs, and she wore little cuffed gauntlets below the elbow. The very full skirt just swept the floor. A headband of velvet leaves had a side arrangement of Talisman roses which fell gracefully into the back of the hair. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Robert A. Dillon, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The guests were escorted to their pews by Jerome R. Dillon, brother of the bridegroom and David Karbula, of Galion, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McFarland, 134 Vennum avenue. Eighty guests were in attendant. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Several bouquets of flowers were placed throughout the home.

The couple have been residing at 150 Glessner avenue, since their return from a honeymoon trip to Cleveland. The bride wore a powder blue suit with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet for traveling.

Mrs. Dillon is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. Mr. Dillon, a graduate of St. Peter's high school, is employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Out-of-town guests present at the ceremony were from Canton, Shelby and Tecumseh, Michigan.

Entertain Husbands at Dinner Bridge

Mrs. M. L. Barnett was in charge of arrangements when the Review of Reviews club entertained their husbands at the Sky club Friday evening with a dinner bridge.

St Patrick's day tallies were used as place cards with the seasonable colors used throughout the room.

Following the three course dinner, bridge was played. When the scores were tallied, prizes were awarded to Robert Barker, first men's prize; Warren Fort, second men's prize; Mrs. Frank McDowell, first ladies's prize; and Mrs. Warren Fort, second ladies's prize.

The next meeting of the club will be April 8 with Mrs. Everett Tingley, 496 Wood street, as hostess.

General Federation of Women's Clubs Convention to Be April 25

Questions of national and international importance will be discussed in the holiday atmosphere when the General Federation of Women's Clubs holds its 58th annual convention at the Hollywood Beach Hotel in Hollywood by the Sea, Florida, April 25-30, 1949.

Call to the convention has been issued to all member clubs of the General Federation and approximately 2,000 delegates and visitors are expected to attend from every State and from overseas clubs affiliated with the General Federation.

Building Better Communities at Home and Abroad is the convention theme and the subject of the keynote address of the GFWC president, Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Virginia, which will be delivered at the first business session Tuesday morning, April 26. Mrs. Buck will preside over all convention sessions, assisted by the first vice-president, Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, and the second vice-president, Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren of Whiting, Indiana.

Hostess organization is the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. A. T. MacKay of Orlando is president. Mrs. L. J. McCaffrey of Miami, immediate past president of the Florida Federation, is convention chairman, assisted by committees of Florida clubwomen. Each club in Florida is contributing souvenir gifts to be distributed among the visitors.

Florida flowers and fruits will be used in profusion at all convention affairs. Delegates will find oranges and tangerines in their rooms and each afternoon fresh fruit juices and coconut milk will be served to all. Special flower arrangements will be used at each banquet and luncheon, featuring orchids, hibiscus, bougainvillea, gardenias and other tropical blooms in turn.

The convention opens officially on Monday evening, April 25, and will close at the evening session on Friday, April 29. Pre-convention and post-convention tours have been arranged as additional attractions for visitors.

Office Girls Organize New Social Group

The office girls of the Ideal Electric company organized a new social group Friday evening at the home of Miss Ruby Cook, 528 Sloane avenue. Miss Mary Myrtle Yohn served as associate hostess. Sixteen girls were in attendance.

During the business session the members voted to have a special project for the year. They will bring baby clothes to each meeting and have them at the disposal of Mrs. J. I. Thomas, nurse at the Ideal. Mrs. Thomas will distribute the clothing among needy families.

Games and contests were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Miss Margaret Kline, Mrs. Howard Hassinger and Mrs. Barbara West.

Refreshments were served at a late hour by the hostesses at a table appointed with St. Patrick's day colors.

On April 8 Mrs. Eleanor Faber, West First street, and Miss Kathryn Baughman will be the hostesses.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Blue Star Mothers will hold their social meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 in their clubrooms. This is to be the first quarterly birthday party for all members having birthdays in the first three months of this year.

Miss Betty Eileen Spayde Becomes Bride of Mr. Yeager

IN A BEAUTIFUL GOWN of slipper satin with a collar of Chantilly lace, edged in a little ruffle of lace, Miss Betty Eileen Spayde of Bellville was married to Thomas Robert Yeager, Sunday, Feb. 26, in the First Methodist church.

The design in the lace collar of the bridal gown was outlined in pearls. The bodice buttoned down the front in a basque effect and the very full skirt was attached to a medium length torso and extended into a wide full train. The long tight pointed sleeves of the gown were covered with buttons.

The bride wore a bonnet style headpiece, matching the Chantilly lace of her gown The headpiece held her three-tiered silk veil of French imported illusion

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Spayde of Bellville. Mr. Yeager is the son of Mrs. H. T. Parker of Columbus. He has resided here at 64 Lexington avenue.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev John Pfahler, pastor of the First Methodist church of Bellville Mrs Willis Naas was organist and Miss Betty Gorsuch soloist. Open church was observed.

The church was decorated with two white beauty baskets and two candelabras

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's only jewelry was a pearl pendant in the form of a star brought from the Holy City, and belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

She carried a white orchid on a small white prayer book with a streamers of white satin and small white sweetpeas.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Donna Jean Spayde, who wore a Nile green gown with a portrait neckline and a wide bertha of Taffeta and Chantilly lace The waist was finished with a wide cummerbund and the skirt was very full and circular.

Miss Spayde wore the same type headpiece as the bride in Chantilly lace to match her gown She wore short mits of lace with ruffling at the wrist, and carried a colonial bouquet of pale pink rosebuds with matching pink ribbon.

Mrs. Spayde chose for her daughter's wedding, a gray two-piece faille dress. She wore an orchid corsage and black accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a horizon blue dress with a matching short jacket Her accessories were gray and she wore an orchid corsage.

The brother of the bridegroom, William LeRoy Yeager of Columbus, served as best man. The bride's brothers, Jack Spayde and Richard Spayde of Bellville, were the ushers

A reception was held in the church parlors, immediately after the wedding, for 125 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the serving table with two small bouquets of pastel flowers on either side of it

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from Columbus, Detroit, Michigan, Galion, Shelby and Chillicothe.

The couple went to Lansing, Michigan, for their honeymoon. The new Mrs. Yeager wore a three-piece blue, white and gray checked suit with gray suede accessories and a white orchid corsage They will be at home in Lansing after April 1

The bride is a graduate of Bellville high school and Mansfield Business Training school She is affiliated with Beta Sigma sorority The bridegroom is a graduate of Columbus North high school and Ohio State University, College of Commerce and Administration He is a past president of Alpha Chi chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. He served three years in the Air Corps as a first lieutenant with the 15th Air Force in Italy

Mrs. Yeager was employed as secretary to Allan P Tappan, president of the Tappan Stove company. Mr. Yeager is employed as a sales representative for the Tappan Stove company in Michigan.

Two pre-nuptial showers were given in honor of the bride Mrs William Yeager entertained at a miscellaneous shower, Feb 12 at her home in Columbus, and a miscellaneous and personal shower was given for her, Feb. 21 by Miss Charlotte Paste and Mrs. Naomi Nussbaum at the former's home, 190 Euclid avenue.

About Women

MISS PAULINE AUXTER TO BE WED TO MR. BLOMSTROM

Employes of United Air Lines to Exchange Vows In Los Angeles on May 7.

MAY 7 HAS BEEN CHOSEN as the wedding date of Miss Pauline Auxter, former Mansfielder, and Howard R. Blomstrom. The couple will exchange nuptial vows in the Chapman Park Auditory, Los Angeles, with Doctor Hill officiating for the semi-formal event. The wedding will take place at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Miss Auxter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Auxter, 205 West Park boulevard, is now residing in Los Angeles. Mr. Blomstrom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Blomstrom, Salt Lake City, Utah, is also a resident of Los Angeles.

Fourteen friends learned of the engagement and approaching marriage at an announcement party given by Miss Auxter's mother in the clubrooms of the Mansfield Leland hotel.

Spring flowers and tall white tapers centered the table for the dinner-bridge. During the meal the bride-elect's young nephew, Tommy Auxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Auxter, Rowland avenue, appeared dressed as cupid with a crown and white satin band. On the band was written in red letters, "Pauline and Howard, May 7."

When the scores were tallied for bridge, prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Osborn, Mrs. Edwin Sheets and Miss Sally Russell.

Miss Auxter, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, is also a graduate of Depew university where she became a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Blomstrom graduated from the University of Utah where he was affiliated with the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He served five years in the Army Air Corps, part of which was spent overseas in the Pacific theater.

They are both employes of the United Air Lines, Miss Auxter being a stewardess and Mr. Blomstrom a pilot.

New Officers Installed By Sorority

The new officers of Omega Tau Gamma sorority were installed Friday night in the YMCA clubrooms. Mrs. Dale Shafer was given the obligation for president with Mrs. Frank Mako, vice president; Mrs. Forest Pittenger, secretary; Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Antrican, sergeant at arms, receiving their pledge.

Plans were made for the founder's day dinner which was postponed from March 10 to March 15. The affair will be held at the Fairway. A covered dish dinner will be held March 31 in the clubrooms for rushees.

Mrs. R. W. Tranum, honorary member from Driver, Arkansas, was present.

The hostesses for the April 8 meeting will be Mrs. Joseph Wilhelm, Mrs. Robert Woodward, Mrs. Antrican and Mrs. Roy Bailey.

Members of Temple Emanuel Sisterhood will meet Tuesday at 1 o'clock for a luncheon and card party at the Temple, Cook road. Mrs. Jules Glattke and Mrs. Louis Bachrach will preside as hostesses.

Family Dinner Marks Anniversary

GALION — On the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary, Saturday, March 12, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Thomas were honored with a family dinner at their home by their two sons and daughter-in-law.

The dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., with Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Thomas and Richard Thomas entertaining. The two young grandchildren of the couple, Robert P., Jr., and Suzanne, also were present for the occasion.

Mrs. Thomas is the former Grace Dye, and she and Mr. Thomas have always lived in Galion.

Joint Meeting Held Sunday

The B'Nai B'rith lodge and auxiliary met at the B'Nai Jacob temple, Sunday for a regular meeting. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the brotherhood essay contest. Mrs. Albert Cousins made the awards.

Mrs. Charles Zelkowitz of Mt. Vernon was the guest speaker. She reviewed the book, "The Birth of Israel". Refreshments were served.

BOX SOCIAL

Rho chapter, Chi Sigma sorority, will have a box social April 1 at John Todd park pavilion. This is for all sorority members and their guests.

Looking Through . . .

The Fashion Spy Glass

News from New York fashion circles promise beautiful new pastel colors for your casual kid footwear. Pastel cotton dresses can now be matched with the same color shoe or a lovely contrast in another pastel shade.

In fact, we understand that the shoe industry, the handbag industry and the belt manufacturers are all joining hands this spring to bring us the exact shade of leather in all our accessories. We are certainly glad to hear that leather goods are going to be "color conscious" to such a great extent.

There is also going to be a lot of two-toning in our shoes. White kid footwear will have colored straps and heels and a shoe will not only be shown in one pastel shade, but in different tones of that shade.

For the tall gals and those of us who have become addicted to the comfort of flat heeled shoes, we can report that flat heels will go dancing this spring and summer in dressier styles than ever before. Famous manufacturers of sporty low heeled shoes are going all out to dress them up for us.

One novelty in fashions, that we may not see this year, but which may very well start a new era in fabrics, is "Lacelon" plastic. Hattie Carnegie has designed a hat in this new material which will be shown in a New York fashion show this week. It is a Vinyl-type plastic which has been spun into a cobwebby gauze. Stretched across a frame, it makes a washable delicate waterproof hat. A spokesman for the manufacturer of "Lacelon" says that the company spent nine years developing it and he believes that it will someday be made into dresses that will equal the finest of imported laces.

And here is a new note in handbags that we don't think will ever sweep the country but we'd like to mention it just for laughs. It is called the "orchid bag" and is designed for "women who pamper their orchids". It is a small pouch, globe or envelope shaped bag with a pocket on the outside. A vial with water and a non-slip rubber top fits into the pocket. Any flower, orchid to daisy, fits into the vial.

The bags come in suedes and leathers for daytime and gold and silver brocade or silk for evening wear. Designer Jan Norris did not list the price range, but hedged: "Any woman who can afford orchids can afford orchid bags."

SEW AT CHURCH

The Afternoon Guild of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church will meet for sewing at 9 a. m. Wednesday in the church parlors. A poke lunch is to be served at noon with a program to follow at 2 o'clock.

GUILD MEETING

Karbula-Dillon Nuptial Vows Solemnized at Catholic Church

COLONIAL IN STYLE was the lovely gown of slipper satin worn by Miss Ruth Karbula for her marriage to Paul E. Dillon February 26. The yoke of sheer marquisette was of a low square effect in both back and front. Across the front of the gown, satin was laid in folds giving the effect of a flat bow with a soft knot. The bodice was fitted very tight with a point in front. The very full skirt extended into a wide long train.

An extremely full fingertip veil of imported English silk illusion was attached to a waxed orange blossom headpiece.

Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and two beauty baskets of spring flowers. The scene at 9:30 a. m. in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church was lighted by tall tapers.

Miss Karbula, who resides at 150 Glessner avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karbula, R. D. 2 Lexington, and Mr. Dillon who resides at 134 Vennum avenue, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Dillon, 105 Sturges avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by a friend, Francis McAvoy, carried a bouquet of roses and carnations with a white orchid insert.

Mrs. Francis McAvoy, a friend of the couple, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a lovely moss green shade of taffeta. The yoke of her gown was also squared in both the back and front with a band of taffeta trimming it. The sleeves were short with turn back cuffs, and she wore little cuffed gauntlets below the elbow. The very full skirt just swept the floor. A headband of velvet leaves had a side arrangement of Talisman roses which fell gracefully into the back of the hair. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Robert A. Dillon, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The guests were escorted to their pews by Jerome R. Dillon, brother of the bridegroom and David Karbula, of Galion, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McFarland, 134 Vennum avenue. Eighty guests were in attendant. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Several bouquets of flowers were placed throughout the home.

The couple have been residing at 150 Glessner avenue, since their returp from a honeymoon trip to Cleveland. The bride wore a powder blue suit with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet for traveling.

Mrs. Dillon is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. Mr. Dillon, a graduate of St. Peter's high school, is employed at the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Out-of-town guests present at the ceremony were from Canton, Shelby and Tecumseh, Michigan.

Entertain Husbands at Dinner Bridge

Mrs. M. L. Barnett was in charge of arrangements when the Review of Reviews club entertained their husbands at the Sky club Friday evening with a dinner bridge.

St Patrick's day tallies were used as place cards with the seasonable colors used throughout the room.

Following the three course dinner, bridge was played. When the scores were tallied, prizes were awarded to Robert Barker, first men's prize; Warren Fort, second men's prize; Mrs. Frank McDowell, first ladies's prize; and Mrs. Warren Fort, second ladies's prize.

The next meeting of the club will be April 8 with Mrs. Everett Tingley, 496 Wood street, as hostess.

General Federation of Women's Clubs Convention to Be April 25

Questions of national and international importance will be discussed in the holiday atmosphere when the General Federation of Women's Clubs holds its 58th annual convention at the Hollywood Beach Hotel in Hollywood by the Sea, Florida, April 25-30, 1949.

Call to the convention has been issued to all member clubs of the General Federation and approximately 2,000 delegates and visitors are expected to attend from every State and from overseas clubs affiliated with the General Federation.

Building Better Communities at Home and Abroad is the convention theme and the subject of the keynote address of the GFWC president, Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Virginia, which will be delivered at the first business session Tuesday morning, April 26. Mrs. Buck will preside over all convention sessions, assisted by the first vice-president, Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton of Red Oak, Iowa, and the second vice-president, Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren of Whiting, Indiana.

Hostess organization is the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. A. T. MacKay of Orlando is president. Mrs. L. J. McCaffrey of Miami, immediate past president of the Florida Federation, is convention chairman, assisted by committees of Florida clubwomen. Each club in Florida is contributing souvenir gifts to be distributed among the visitors.

Florida flowers and fruits will be used in profusion at all convention affairs. Delegates will find oranges and tangerines in their rooms and each afternoon fresh fruit juices and coconut milk will be served to all. Special flower arrangements will be used at each banquet and luncheon, featuring orchids, hibiscus, bougainvillea, gardenias and other tropical blooms in turn.

The convention opens officially on Monday evening, April 25, and will close at the evening session on Friday, April 29. Pre-convention and post-convention tours have been arranged as additional attractions for visitors.

Sorority Elects New Officers

Mrs. Ray Harmon is newly elected president of Chi chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Ashland which elected new officers at its regular March meeting.

Others elected include Miss Alice Ludwick, vice president; Mrs. Robert Thompson, recording secretary; Miss Mary Ellen Wolfe, corresponding secretary and Miss Ann Wagner, treasurer.

Office Girls Organize New Social Group

The office girls of the Ideal Electric company organized a new social group Friday evening at the home of Miss Ruby Cook, 528 Sloane avenue. Miss Mary Myrtle Yohn served as associate hostess. Sixteen girls were in attendance.

During the business session the members voted to have a special project for the year. They will bring baby clothes to each meeting and have them at the disposal of Mrs. J. I. Thomas, nurse at the Ideal. Mrs. Thomas will distribute the clothing among needy families.

Games and contests were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Miss Margaret Kline, Mrs. Howard Hassinger and Mrs. Barbara West.

Refreshments were served at a late hour by the hostesses at a table appointed with St. Patrick's day colors.

On April 8 Mrs. Eleanor Faber, West First street, and Miss Kathryn Baughman will be the hostesses.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Blue Star Mothers will hold their social meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 in their clubrooms. This is to be the first quarterly birthday party for all members having birthdays in the first three months of this year.

Miss Betty Eileen Spayde Becomes Bride of Mr. Yeager

IN A BEAUTIFUL GOWN of slipper satin with a collar of Chantilly lace, edged in a little ruffle of lace, Miss Betty Eileen Spayde of Bellville was married to Thomas Robert Yeager, Sunday, Feb. 26, in the First Methodist church.

The design in the lace collar of the bridal gown was outlined in pearls. The bodice buttoned down the front in a basque effect and the very full skirt was attached to a medium length torso and extended into a wide full train. The long tight pointed sleeves of the gown were covered with buttons.

The bride wore a bonnet style headpiece, matching the Chantilly lace of her gown. The headpiece held her three-tiered silk veil of French imported illusion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Spayde of Bellville. Mr. Yeager is the son of Mrs. H. T. Parker of Columbus. He has resided here at 64 Lexington avenue.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John Pfahler, pastor of the First Methodist church of Bellville. Mrs. Willis Naas was organist and Miss Betty Gorsuch soloist. Open church was observed.

The church was decorated with two white beauty baskets and two candelabras.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's only jewelry was a pearl pendant in the form of a star brought from the Holy City, and belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

She carried a white orchid on a small white prayer book with a streamers of white satin and small white sweetpeas.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Donna Jean Spayde, who wore a Nile green gown with a portrait neckline and a wide bertha of Taffeta and Chantilly lace. The waist was finished with a wide cummerbund and the skirt was very full and circular.

Miss Spayde wore the same type headpiece as the bride in Chantilly lace to match her gown. She wore short mits of lace with ruffling at the wrist, and carried a colonial bouquet of pale pink rosebuds with matching pink ribbon.

Mrs. Spayde chose for her daughter's wedding, a gray two-piece faille dress. She wore an orchid corsage and black accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a horizon blue dress with a matching short jacket. Her accessories were gray and she wore an orchid corsage.

The brother of the bridegroom, William LeRoy Yeager of Columbus, served as best man. The bride's brothers, Jack Spayde and Richard Spayde of Bellville, were the ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors, immediately after the wedding, for 125 guests. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the serving table with two small bouquets of pastel flowers on either side of it.

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from Columbus, Detroit, Michigan, Galion, Shelby and Chillicothe.

The couple went to Lansing, Michigan, for their honeymoon. The new Mrs. Yeager wore a three-piece blue, white and gray checked suit with gray suede accessories and a white orchid corsage. They will be at home in Lansing after April 1.

The bride is a graduate of Bellville high school and Mansfield Business Training school. She is affiliated with Beta Sigma sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of Columbus North high school and Ohio State University. College of Commerce and Administration. He is a past president of Alpha Chi chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. He served three years in the Air Corps as a first lieutenant with the 15th Air Force in Italy.

Mrs. Yeager was employed as secretary to Allan P. Tappan, president of the Tappan Stove company. Mr. Yeager is employed as a sales representative for the Tappan Stove company in Michigan.

Two pre-nuptial showers were given in honor of the bride. Mrs. William Yeager entertained at a miscellaneous shower, Feb. 12 at her home in Columbus, and a miscellaneous and personal shower was given for her, Feb. 21 by Miss Charlotte Paste and Mrs. Naomi Nussbaum at the former's home, 190 Euclid avenue.

A New Hospital Plan Sweeps Mansfield

Entire Families Are Protected For Sickness, Accidents and Childbirth

Cash For Hospital Room, Surgeon Fees, Medicine, X-Rays, Etc.

Information Free

If you live in Mansfield or surrounding territory your family can now be assured of cash if any member should go to the hospital on account of sickness, accident or childbirth. Take advantage of this new low cost hospital plan — complete and free information is yours for the asking. Just send your name and address on the coupon below. No obligation.

Cost Is Small Only a Few Cents a Day

The members of your immediate family can be protected under a single contract on which you make only one small payment each month. Only a few cents a day for the average family.

Hospital Room and Board Paid

This Colonial Hospital Plan is one of the most liberal ever devised and pays: (1) Cash for room and meals in hospital for any member of the family; (2) Cash to help pay the fees for the doctor or surgeon: (3) Cash for various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, medicines, X-rays, anesthetic, ambulance service, etc.

Pays Whether Disability Occurs at Home or at Work

This new plan is backed by the old reliable Colonial Insurance Company which has already paid thousands of dollars in claims to people just like you. Remember, you get cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work.

Choose Your Own Hospital and Your Own Doctor

This plan does not limit you to any certain hospital or any certain doctor. The money is paid direct to your hospital, or your doctor or you, whichever you direct. So you can pick your own hospital and your own doctor. Your contract identifies you at any hospital. This plan provides other benefits too and anyone interested will get full and complete information free by mailing the coupon below. There is no obligation and you make up your own mind if you want the plan. Act now! Tomorrow may be too late.

The couple will exchange vows in an open church ceremony at the Wilson avenue Evangelical and Reformed church, Wilson and Fair avenues, Columbus, Sunday, March 20 at 2 p.m.

Production per farm worker in 1946 was almost twice the average for the period 1910-1914, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Eat carrots for vitamin A. This is the vitamin that helps to prevent night blindness. It is important for good skin, good linings to nose and mouth and other body tissues.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, March 15

It is probable that a depressed mood, a gloomy outlook, or an indisposition to face squarely an important or burdensome situation may make major desisions difficult. The weight of affairs may seem overwhelming, under which circumstance it may be just as well to defer all operations. However, safeguard against false reports, slander unfriendly letters, forgeries, or other regrettable experiences will have reactions on physical conditions and good spirits. Take ime out to let things incubate. Rest and relaxation could prove good medicine.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to meet very important matters of far-reaching, lasting consequence. It may be ifficul to reach a dicision, since the spirits are depressed, energies lagging and the mental attitude one of hopelessness and gloom. There are possibilities for making wrong moves, inviting slander, ill repute, unfriendly letters or communications, even forgeries. Grave anxieties of a personal nature make it advisable to seek diversion, or consolation, in the most practical and logical manner. Relax, enjoy, study seriously, but postpone major operations.
